Whereas The bulk of the medium of exchange commonly called "money" has not been affected but is the same or greater than it was in one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine Our system of credits only has broken under the strain of inflated abuse and the commendable efforts of private enterprise to restore confidence have failed to bring the needed relief The wages of the employed and the receipts of those who bring forth raw products are the mainstay of trade and credit When they fail the merchant also fails There is no demand for the products of industry nor for transportation Raw products become unsaleable and the workman continues unemployed The situation presents a relentless cycle from which escape is possible only by a remedy of the cause and

Whereas The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is not wholly powerles to protect its people from the appalling inhumanity of this cataclysmic tragedy There is an imperative demand for the exercise of her police power for the protection of the public health safety morals and welfare Written constitutions were not framed to leave a legislative body helpless in an emergency when faced by a crisis such as this but to place checks and balances on the agencies of government during normal times for the better protection of all of the people The Supreme Court of the United States has declared (Powell versus Pennsylvania one hundred twenty-seven United States six hundred seventy-eight) "It is a settled doctrine of this court that as government is organized for the purpose among others of preserving the public health and the public morals it cannot divest itself of the power to provide for these objects and that the Fourteenth Amendment was not designed to interfere with the exercise of that power by the States" now therefore

Sction 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in the exercise of the police power for the protection of the public health safety morals and welfare threatened by existing economic conditions from the date this act becomes effective and for the period of one year thereafter all executions and all judicial and tax sales to enforce the payment of any State or local tax or of any municipal or tax lien or of any mechanics or other lien or to enforce the payment of any judgment entered on any mortgage foreclosure or on any written instrument with or without confession of judgment or to enforce the payment of any judgment recovered on any oral or written agreement or on any book account or in any action of trespass or trespass on the case for damages or in any action of replevin or for libel or slander or to enforce the payment of any money award in any suit in equity or to enforce the payment of any other judgment or ward for the payment of money and all sales on distress for rent are hereby stayed and no sheriff constable county treasurer tax collector or other officer shall during said period sell any real or personal property under any writ return or other process or by virtue of the authority of any law of this Commonwealth Any sale made in violation of the provisions of this act shall be void and no such sale or any deed or other instrument of conveyance or any bill of sale executed and delivered pursuant thereto shall pass any title to the property purported to be sold nor shall any officer making such sale be allowed any fees or expenses incurred in connection with any such sale Provided That in proper cases where it shall be shown to the satisfaction of the court of common pleas that any defendant debtor tenant or delinquent tax payer is able to pay the whole or any part of the money owing by him and is avoiding payment thereof by reason of this act the court may make a special order permitting a sale and authorizing any such officer to proceed therewith in accordance with the laws of this Commonwealth suspended by this act

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall be severable and if any of the provisions shall be held to be unconstitutional such decision shall not affect the validity of any of the remaining provisions of this act It is hereby declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provision not been included therein

Section 3 The provisions of this act shall become effective upon the tenth day after its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2346 (Senate Bill No. 1355), entitled:

A Supplement to an act approved the fourteenth day of June, A. D., one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and thirty-seven), entitled "An act relating to Bonds, with Penalties and Official Bonds."

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

such improvement to be made and in such ordinance has authorized the advertising for bids therefor and the assessment of benefits upon the property benefitted thereby and subsequent thereto pursuant to an ordinance passed after the passage and approval of the original ordinance providing for the improvement has authorized the entering into a contract for the said improvement with the Secretary of Highways of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and with the general contractor who was the successful bidder with the Commonwealth for the construction of any portion of such streets or highways without any advertising for bids on the part of the city borough or township as provided for in the original ordinance authorizing such improvement and has subsequent thereto brought proceedings for the appointment of viewers to assess benefits for the said improvement against the property abutting along the line of improvement in accordance with the provisions of the original ordinance authorizing the said improvement or has by ordinance provided for the assessment against abutting property owners of benefits for such improvement or whenever heretofore the council of any city of the third class or of any borough or the board of commissioners of any township of the first class of this Commonwealth has required by ordinance and caused to be made graded paved curbed or macadamized with brick stone or other suitable material or otherwise improved any public street or thoroughfare or part thereof either cartway footwalk or gutter or has covered or enclosed any watercourse or waterway in any street or thoroughfare so as to improve or extend and increase the driveway in any street or thoroughfare or has caused any sewers whatsoever to be constructed within or without any such city borough or township or has caused ornamental lights to be erected pursuant to any ordinance or has heretofore in accordance with existing law assessed a portion of the cost of such sewer as a sewage tax against property abutting on the side of said street alley or highway which is located outside the limits of the by the said city borough or township to use such sewer and such property not being then provided with sewer facilities and has by ordinance provided for the assessment against abutting property owners of benefits for such improvement but owing to some defect in the petition action of council or of the board of commissioners notice of publication failure to make said improvement in accordance with the strict terms of any ordinance or any other proceeding or action necessary under existing laws and ordinances to give jurisdiction to such council or board of commissioners or because of noncompliance with existing laws as to publication of copies of ordinance and posting of handbills prior to or after the final passage of such ordinance or because of non compliance with existing laws as to the purchasing of materials and supplies or the awarding of contracts without advertising or because the ordinance itself or the official record book containing the same has been lost mislaid or destroyed or such ordinance has not been transcribed in the official record book or because of irregularity or error in the appointment of viewers to assess benefits against property abutting along the line of improvement or because of the neglect of viewers appointed to assess damages and benefits caused or accruing as a result thereof to file their report within the time required by law for the filing thereof or because of irregularity or error in the method or procedure taken for the ascertainment of the amount of benefits to such property or because of any irregularity or error in the ordinances or passage or approval thereof authorizing the execution of the work the contracting therefor and the assessing of benefits therefor or where the right of the board of viewers to assume jurisdiction and to act in assessing the properties benefitted thereby is questioned or because of any irregularity or error in the failure to bring the proceedings for the assessment of benefits for such improvement before the board of viewers within the time provided by law or the failure to assess the benefits therefor in the manner now provided by law or because of any irregularity or error in arriving at or determining the benefits assessed against any such property or because of the failure to give notice as required by law or ordinance or the time for filing a lien or making claim for such improvement has expired or the claim has not been filed after notice to do so or for any other reason the costs of such improvement or portion thereof were not or cannot be legally assessed upon the property bounding or abutting on the street or part thereof improved or owing to some defect in the statement of claim filed to secure the lien or the failure of the city borough or township solicitor to file the lien in the court of common pleas or to sign the same or to have stamped thereon a facsimile signature of the said solicitor or chief executive of the claimant for the costs of such improvement or any error made in the name of the owner or owners of the abutting property payment thereof cannot be enforced or if the ordinance of the city borough or township authorizing the construction of any improvement was in fact adopted before such city borough or township was legally empowered to make such assessments on property outside the limits of such city borough or township if such improvement was actually constructed and such assessments against property outside the limits of such city borough or township made subsequent to the time when such city borough or township was legally empowered to levy such assessments as was contemplated by the act or acts of General Assembly under which the improvement was attempted to be made and statement of claim filed now by this act such improvements are made valid and binding and also any statement of claim heretofore filed if any to secure the liens therefor are also made valid and binding and the jurisdiction of any board of viewers hereinbefore mentioned to entertain such proceedings and the assessments made pursuant to such proceedings against property within or without the limits of any such city borough or township shall be valid and binding and the council of such city or borough and the commissioners of such township may cause the property bounding or abutting on the street or part thereof upon which the improvement has been made or is now being made to be assessed in the manner now provided by law or by the board of viewers' proceedings in the manner and at the rates now provided by law with such a portion of the costs of such improvement as is contemplated by the law under which the improvement was made or attempted to be made or is now being made and all such benefits and all assessments heretofore made or determined are hereby ratified confirmed and validated and any statement of claims heretofore filed if any to secure the liens therefore are also hereby ratified confirmed and validated Such assessment or other assessment heretofore made or hereafter made in proceedings now pending within the time limitations specified in this act shall be a lien upon the property assessed and any lien heretofore filed for benefits assessed or for the cost of such improvement or any part thereof although the report of the viewers assessing the same was not filed within the time required by law for the filing thereof is hereby made valid and binding with the same force and effect as though such report was filed within the time required by law for filing the same The lien shall date from the completion of the improvement for which the assessment is made whether the work was completed through one or several operations or contracts or from the date of filing the same and shall remain a lien until fully paid and satisfied Provided That a writ of scire facias is issued to revive the same during every period of five (5) years after the lien is filed as hereinafter provided And provided further That this act shall not validate any lien against any property which has been conveyed to a bona fide purchaser thereof subsequent to the expiration of the period prescribed by law for the filing of such liens and prior to the date of the filing thereof or give the lien thus filed priority over any bona fide lien or liens filed entered or recorded or which shall have otherwise attached subsequently to the time prescribed by law for the filing of such municipal lien and prior to the time of the filing thereof

Section 2 The council of any city of the third class or of any borough or the board of commissioners of any township of the first class of this Commonwealth entitled to a lien under this act shall file a lien therefor if not heretofore in the office of the prothonotary of the county within which the property lies within six (6) months after the completion of the work where the improvement is now in progress or within twelve (12) months after the confirmation absolute of the report of the viewers assessing the benefits for such improvement whether now or hereafter pending or within twelve (12) months after the approval of this act where the improvement is now completed if no lien has been heretofore filed for the same or within twelve (12) months after the passage of any councilmanic ordinance assessing benefits under the provisions of this act where the improvement is already completed and the same shall be entered upon record as other municipal claims Such liens shall state the name of the party claimant which shall be the corporate name of the city borough or township making the improvement name of the owner or reputed owner of the property assessed a reasonable description of the property assessed the amount or sum claimed to be due which shall include interest on the assessment from the completion of the improvement for what improvement the claim is made the date of its completion the date of the assessment for which the lien is filed Such lien when so filed shall be prima facie evidence of all matters therein set forth and of the right of the city borough or township to recover the amount therein claimed to be due together with interest from the date of the lien or completion of the improvement costs and an attorney's commission of five per centum for collecting

Section 3 The claim when so filed shall be proceeded upon for collection by writ of scire facias Provided That this act shall not apply to any proceeding suit or lien wherein a final order or judgment of any court of record has already been made or entered

Section 4 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

NAYS—1

Lynch, M.,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2103, as follows:

An Act providing for the reimbursement by the State of counties for costs and the maintenance of prisoners imposed as the result of prosecutions under laws providing that fines and penalties imposed under such laws or forfeited bail recovered as the result of such prosecutions shall be payable into the State Treasury or any fund thereof providing for the audit of the accounts of counties by the Auditor General and for the collection of amounts due from counties and for appeals by counties to the Board of Finance and Revenue and imposing powers and duties on the Auditor General and the Department of Revenue and certain duties upon counties repealing inconsistent acts and making an appropriation

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever any costs are imposed on counties by verdicts of juries or by operation of law as the result of criminal prosecutions brought under any laws of this Commonwealth which provide that the fines penalties and forfeited bail recovered under such laws shall be payable into the State Treasury for the use of the Commonwealth or into any special fund of the Commonwealth the counties shall be entitled to recover such costs together with the cost of the maintenance of prisoners committed to its penal institutions as the result of such prosecutions for any calendar or other fiscal year as fixed by the Auditor General to the extent of such fines penalties and forfeited bail recovered during such year and shall be entitled to deduct such costs and the cost of the maintenance of prisoners from such fines penalties and forfeited bail so recovered

Section 2 The Auditor General shall at the close of each calendar year or other fiscal year as he may fix for a county proceed to audit the accounts of such county determining the total amount of fines penalties and forfeited bail recovered by such county as the result of prosecutions under laws providing for the payment of such fines penalties and forfeited bail recovered by such county as the result of prosecutions under laws providing for the payment of such fines penalties and forfeited bail into any fund of the Commonwealth and the amount of fines penalties and forfeited bail payable into each fund of the Commonwealth The Auditor General shall also determine the total amount paid out by such county during the calendar or other fiscal year in costs and for the maintenance of prisoners as the result of such prosecutions and the amount of the total chargeable to each respective fund of the Commonwealth into which the fines penalties and bail for such prosecutions are payable and he shall strike a balance for each fund In any case where the amount of fines penalties and forfeited bail collected in any such year and payable into one fund exceed the total costs imposed on the county and the maintenance of prisoners for the year arising from prosecutions under the laws directing payment of the fines penalties and forfeited bail into such fund the county shall be liable for the payment of such excess into the proper fund of the Commonwealth upon bills rendered by the Department of Revenue

The Auditor General shall upon the completion of the annual audit of a county certify to the Department of Revenue the amount due by the county to each fund of the State Treasury and file with the county commissioners of the county a copy of his audit

Section 3 In case any county shall neglect or refuse to pay over to the State Treasurer through the Department of Revenue the amount or any part thereof due as shown by the audit of the Auditor General the Department of Revenue shall cause such amount so due to be deducted from any sum payable to such county from the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund and pay the amount so deducted into the proper fund of the Commonwealth and for such purposes any moneys in the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund are hereby appropriated

Section 4 Any county dissatisfied with any amount found to be due by the Auditor General shall have the right to appeal by petition from such audit within thirty days from the date of the bill rendered by the Department of Revenue to the Board of Finance and Revenue Such appeal petition shall be filed in triplicate and copy thereof shall be transmitted by the Board of Finance and Revenue to the Auditor General and the Department of Revenue

Any such petition shall specifically state the item or items of the audit from which the appeal is taken and the reason therefor and the appeal shall be limited to the matters set forth in the petition

The Board of Finance and Revenue shall fix a time and place for hearing the appeal of which notice shall be given by the Board of the Auditor General the Department of Revenue and the county commissioners at least ten days before the day fixed for hearing After hearing the matter the Board of Finance and Revenue shall determine the amount if any due by the county on the item or items appealed from and certify a copy of its findings to the county commissioners of the county and the Department of Revenue The findings of the Board of Finance and Revenue shall be final and the amounts so found to be due by it shall be collected by the Department of Revenue as above provided

Section 5 The Auditor General shall have power to fix the fiscal year of any county for the purpose of auditing its accounts under the provisions of this act in order that the audits for the various counties may be spread over the calendar year The Auditor General shall have power to require any county to keep its accounts of fines penalties and forfeited bail collected and of the payment of costs imposed upon it and the cost of the maintenance of prisoners in such form as he may require

Section 6 This act shall take effect on the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three and shall apply to all fines penalties and forfeited bail collected on and after said date and to all costs and the maintenance of prisoners imposed on the counties on or after said date

Section 7 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed to the extent of such inconsistency

RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 1676 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. PHILIP STERLING offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1933.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 1676, Printer's No. 930, entitled: "An Act to further amend paragraph (b) of Section nine of the act approved the fifteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred nine) entitled 'An act relating to the organization maintenance and operation of the Department of Banking and the scope of its supervision and control over corporations partnerships unincorporated associations and individuals and the assets and liabilities thereof providing penalties for the enforcement of its provisions and repealing the Banking Department Act of nineteen hundred and nineteen with table of contents' by requiring building and loan associations to pay the full cost of examinations by the Department of Banking," be returned to the Governor without amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. We adopted in this House yesterday a resolution to adjourn sine die at 12 o'clock noon today. There are several conference committees working on various important subjects that are possibly the most important pieces of legislation that have confronted this General Assembly. It is impossible for the Chair to know when the conference committees will make their reports. It will be necessary for them to make their reports and have the reports printed. The Chair hopes that the members will stay, regardless of the time, to adopt these reports. The Chair would regret, on the closing day of the session, to find that a quorum did not exist and that he would be compelled to stop trains and automobiles on the highways and bring the members back. The members have been loyal and patient and the Chair requests just a little more patience until we can properly close this session.

RESOLUTION No. 43

Mr. WADE. Mr. Speaker, I desire at this time to call up resolution No. 43, Printer's No. 208.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 13, 1933.

Whereas The Federal Congress in the proposed appropriation bill has withdrawn vast sums of money which was heretofore authorized and expended for the hospitalization and maintenance of disabled and partially disabled veterans and

Whereas Many thousand disabled and partially disabled veterans who have been receiving such aid are citizens and residents of this Commonwealth and

Whereas The withdrawal or curtailment of Federal maintenance to disabled or partially disabled Pennsylvania veterans will result in an added financial burden on this Commonwealth not heretofore considered therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That a Joint Legislative Committee to consist of two members of the Senate to be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate and three members of the House to be appointed by the Speaker of the House is hereby created whose duty it shall be to inquire into investigate and compile data concerning the number of disabled or partially disabled veterans in this Commonwealth effected by such Federal action and the amounts of money involved and to report as soon as possible to both Houses in order that the additional duty so imposed on this Commonwealth may be assumed by proper legislation

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION No. 85

Miss BRANCATO. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 85, Printer's No. 1105.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 1, 1933.

Whereas, As a result of federal economy legislation plans for the construction of the new naval hospital at Philadelphia have been discontinued and

Whereas, The pressing necessity for such an institution in the proposed location has been and is well recognized and

Whereas, Abandonment or delay in the proposed construction must result in suffering among the nation's servants who are entitled to the nation's care therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully presents to His Excellency the President of the United States that in the opinion of said General Assembly no plan or program be it economy or otherwise should be permitted to interfere with the immediate carrying out of so worthy and necessary a project and be it further

Resolved That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by proper authority to the President of the United States.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION No. 92

Mr. SHUGARTS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 92, Printer's No. 1177.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 1, 1933.

Whereas Many anonymous letters relating to road legislation and containing gross misstatements of facts in regard to the highways of Pennsylvania have lately been received by members of the House and

Whereas Such letters work a hardship both upon the officials attacked and upon the members receiving them and if believed and their suggestions followed would be of inestimable damage to the Commonwealth therefore be it

Resolved That the House condemns and disapproves of this unfair and cowardly manner of attempting to influence its action and suggests that an investigation of the sending of anonymous letters to members of the Legislature be thoroughly investigated by the State Police with the idea of apprehending and punishing those guilty of this reprehensible practice

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 1730.

An Act providing for the ascertainment and assessment of damages for coal underlying property condemned for highway purposes.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend bill by striking out all of the title and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "Authorizing the Secretary of Highways to enter into agreements relating to support for State highway rights of way underlaid by coal and for the ascertainment and assesment of damages sustained by reason of the obligation to furnish such support whether the damages are payable by the Commonwealth or a county."

Amend by striking out all of Section 1, after the word "That" in the third line and all of Sections 2, 3 and 4 and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "Whenever the Commonwealth has heretofore acquired or may hereafter acquire an easement for highway purposes upon lands underlaid by mineable coal the Secretary of Highways is hereby authorized to enter into agreements with the owner of the coal underlying such lands or the person entitled to remove the same specifying the underlying or adjacent coal if any to be left in place for the purpose of furnishing vertical or lateral support to said highway the underlying or adjacent coal if any which may be removed and the material if any to be substituted for the coal so removed together with the method and manner of placing such material in the mine workings for the purpose of furnishing both vertical and lateral support to such highway

Section 2 The condemnation or acquisition of any easement for highway purposes as hereinbefore provided shall not be considered as including the condemnation or acquistion of any coal which may be removed under the terms of any agreement authorized by this Act

Section 3 Any damages sustained by the owner of the coal or the person entitled to remove the same as a result of any obligation to furnish vertical and lateral support arising because of the acquisition of such easement for highway purposes which obligation did not exist prior to the date of such acquisition shall be determined and paid in accordance with the provisions of laws relative to the determination and payment of damages for the relocating of State highways which were in force at the time of the original acquisition of such easement

Section 4 This act shall be effective upon its approval by the Governor

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF HOUSE BILLS Nos. 1125, 1758, 1774 and 1777

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, May 4, 1933.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed the following:

House Bill No. 1125, Printer's No. 523, entitled "An Act fixing the compensation and mileage of jury commissioners in counties of the sixth class."

House Bill No. 1758, Printer's No. 345, entitled "An Act to repeal the act approved the eighth day of July one thousand nine hundred nineteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred seventy) entitled 'An act creating a Division of Township Highways in the State Highway Department conferring powers and imposing duties upon officers of the State Highway Department requiring certain duties of clerks of the courts of quarter sessions and providing penalties.'"

House Bill No. 1774, Printer's No. 515, entitled "An Act establishing portions of certain highways lying partially within the corporate limits of cities boroughs or incorporated towns as State highways and providing for their construction and maintenance at the expense of the Commonwealth."

House Bill No. 1777, Printer's No. 551, entitled "An Act to amend section two of the act approved the fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred twenty-eight) entitled 'An act to provide revenue by imposing a State tax upon sales or agreements to sell or memoranda of sales of stock and upon deliveries or transfers of shares or certificates of stock in domestic and foreign corporations copartnership associations and joint-stock associations providing the manner of collecting such tax and prescribing penalties' by extending the exemptions from the tax imposed by the said act."

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair reads Rule 31 of the House which reads as follows: "Committee records shall be filed with the Resident Clerk on the final adjournment of the House, to be kept for a period of two years." The Chairmen of the various committees will govern themselves accordingly.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, is this the proper time to arise to a question of information?

The SPEAKER. The Chair states that at any time the gentleman from Erie wishes to arise to a question of information it is in order.

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like an answer to two questions.

The SPEAKER. Of whom does the gentleman from Erie desire to ask the questions?

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, I really don't know. I fail to find the answer in the book of rules or in parliamentary law. I thought perhaps the Speaker could direct me to some work where I could look for the answer. I feel that until I can get an answer to the questions I will never be happy again.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would suggest to the gentleman if he is in such a quandary that he meet the Speaker in his office when the session is over. The gentleman from Erie will proceed.

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, I wish to know which one of the State officials is responsible for the law or rule that seats all the new members in the extreme back part of this House. When I first went to school——

The SPEAKER. Is that one of the questions?

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, I am not through with that yet.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will reply to the gentleman. He well recalls the first day that he went to school. He started in at the first grade and he gradually went higher. So it is in the hall of the House. The gentleman has started in the back row and in due course of time will be assigned a seat in the front row.

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, may I be permitted to answer that?

The SPEAKER. I thought the gentleman desired to ask the Chair a question.

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, the answer is not quite satisfactory.

The SPEAKER. The Chair suggests that the gentleman answer it in his own way.

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, why was the plan reversed? In the one-room school that I attended the beginners were put down in front where they could see, and hear and learn something.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will reply to that and say that the plan is a proper one, because the older members do not want the younger members to hear too much during their first session.

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, the plan has worked admirably.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman admit that the plan has been a success?

Mr. LAUBACH. Mr. Speaker, I am willing to turn my seat over to the gentleman from Erie for the balance of the session.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Laubach, has volunteered to turn his seat in the front row over to the gentleman from Erie for the rest of the session.

Mr. McCREARY. Too late, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair did not desire to tell on the gentleman from Erie, but the Chair did extend the courtesy of the seat of the gentleman from Forest, Mr. Wheeler, to the gentelman from Erie in the early part of the session, but when his views differed from the views of the Chair quite frequently and the gentleman was voting "no"—when the Chair discovered that, he put the gentleman in his proper seat in the back row.

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, might I add another question?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. McCREARY. As to the reason for building this fence back here, I was told that it was to protect the new members from the lobbyists; if so, it was a complete failure. Any ten-year-old farm boy knows that it dosen't do any good to build a ten-rail fence to keep the cows out and then leave all the gates open.

The SPEAKER. The gentlemen has been misinformed as to why the partition was put up there. It was not to protect the members in the back from the lobbyists, but rather it was after it was rumored around that the citizens of the Commonwealth were coming to storm the Legislature, and it was the desire of the Chair to protect the members in the back row.

Mr. McCREARY. The other question, Mr. Speaker?

The CHAIR. The gentleman has already asked two questions, and that is all he asked permisison for.

Mr. McCREARY. They were all a part of one—"A", "B", "C" and "D".

The SPEAKER. Orders of the day, "C".

Mr. McCREARY. The next question, Mr. Speaker, is to know why the members of this House so readily accept all the amendments sent over by the Senate. There are two hundred and seven members on the floor of this House and fifty in the Senate, four times and a fraction as many members in the House, and a simple arithmetical problem figures out that they know four times as much. Then, why should they accept without question the amendments that come from the Senate?

The SPEAKER. From time immemorial it has been believed that the Senators had more brains than the members of the House. Does the gentleman from Erie admit that?

Mr. McCREARY. No, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair suggests that the gentleman go to the Senate and tell them that.

Mr. McCREARY. If the Speaker thinks he is afraid——

The SPEAKER. Orders of the Day, "D".

Mr. McCREARY. I don't want for a minute to go beyond the bounds of courtesy with what I have to say.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman need not worry. The Chair won't let him.

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, it would do me a lot of good to have a private conference and tell the members of this House my experience with a conference committee over in the Senate.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I move that permission be given to the gentleman from Erie, Mr. McCreary, to have that meeting in the hall of the House next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. PEELOR. Mr. Speaker, will the members of the House have to attend that meeting?

The SPEAKER. The Chair suggests that the gentelman from Indiana talk to the gentleman from Erie and find out what he is going to talk about and then he may be able to send his message through the mail.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 183

Mr. RUBY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 183.

The SPEAKER. The report lies over for printing.

STATEMENT BY Mr. NOTHNAGLE

Mr. NOTHNAGLE asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following remarks:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, at this time I want to say that the page boys and the gentelman from Delaware were called down a day or two ago and asked to go on the outside with their little bag of tricks. They are back again this morning and before they get very far into it I want to say this.

It has been customary in this House for years at this particular time to remember some of the employes and some of the officers with little souvenirs that they may take home to call back the good times that we have had here.

This House when it convened in January was virtually a new House, it was half new and half old, and you know what the parson says "What God has joined together let no man put asunder, you are one". We have not yet decided which is the one, the new or the old. We have been pretty far apart at times but we are all together this morning. In this little ceremony we want every one to take it in the spirit in which we give it.

I am going to ask the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Williams, to make a few remarks at this particular time.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Nothnagle, for this branch of the Legislature to function in an orderly way, the law calls for the election of a member to the important office of speaker, an office vested with great power and authority, in the exercise of which very largely depends the success or failure of the work of a Session. All that was said of the qualifications of the gentleman from Delaware at the time of his election as Speaker, which we who had served with him in previous Sessions fully recognized, has been more than justified by the eminent fairness and able manner with which he has presided over our deliberations, in recognizing and protecting the rights of the Members, in his prompt rulings on parliamentary questions, in his tact in handling questions arising from time to time that might otherwise have been troublesome, and in the expeditious manner with which he has advanced the calendar from day to day.

Mr. TALBOT. It is my happy pleasure in behalf of the Members of the House, as an expression of their appreciation of the oustanding service you have rendered as Speaker to present you with this diamond ring, the brilliancy of the precious stone being so truly symbolical of your services as our presiding officer. It carries with it our high regard and esteem and very best wishes for your future personal and political welfare. May the wearing of this ring remind you daily of the sincere friendship of your colleagues in this the nineteen hundred and thirty-three Session of the Legislature.

The SPEAKER. The Chair deeply thanks the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Williams, for the remarks he has made to the Speaker.

I shall carry the memory of the session of 1933 of the General Assembly as one of the great memories of my life.

We came here with one hundred new members on the third of January, members representing the various parts of the Commonwealth. I said when I was inducted into office as your Speaker that I hoped that we would cease to play factional politics but rather that we should be the representatives of the ten million people of this great commonwealth. I publicly say now. to you, the members of this General Assembly, that you have at all times studied the welfare of the citizens of this commonwealth. We have differed many times. That is as it should be, because through the variation of opinions the people of the Commonwealth have benefitted by the legislation we have enacted.

You have been patient, and if I have been successful as your presiding officer it is entirely due to the courtesy extended to me by each and every individual member of this General Assembly.

We have been criticised, and possibly too harshly at times, but it is my belief that the members will be rewarded in due course of time for the work they have done, not so much from legislation passed perhaps but rather from the prevention of radical legislation during the period of this crisis in the commonwealth. That to my mind is the great and glowing tribute that should be paid to this body; that they weathered the storm, they kept their feet on the ground, they kept the faith, and the people in the end will gain.

I accept this beautiful ring with thanks from the bottom of my heart. I shall wear it and realize always the feeling that has come with the gift. I thank you.

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. I am going to ask Mr. Greenstein to come to the pit of the House, unless Mr. Witkin is here. Philadelphia is, and has the right to be, jealous of Delaware County, and just as soon as Witkin found that we had a stone for our Speaker, he immediately set up a howl that he ought to have one too and a larger one than the Speaker, and he wanted it, not to wear on his finger but on his necktie, so we have secured a larger one for him to wear on his necktie and we are going to ask Mr. Greenstein, to take this "stein" to Witkin.

I am now going to ask the boys, Peters and Baldi, to come to the pit of the House. Here are two patriots. Charley Baldi for two or three sessions got up nerve enough to put in a bill for horse-racing, and Fred bolstered him up and finally came along and they put in a bill together. What became of that bill I don't know, but if they want horseracing they can have it, because I am going to give each one a horse of his own.

Mr. BALDI. After introducing this bill and expecting that it would pass, Mr. Peters and I have been wondering where we could get a few jockeys. After this session I am fully convinced that we can get more jockeys from the Senate than we can from the House.

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. At this time the Chief Clerk wants to make a few remarks. He is another Delaware countian.

CHIEF CLERK WHITE. Mr. Speaker, representing the desk, I wish to present to you this gavel that you may have the memory of this session always with you, and the pen with which you signed many bills during the session.

The SPEAKER. The Chair feels he is receiving honors past his due, and from the bottom of his heart thanks the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. White.

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. We all know that we get in a tight box once in a while and we all have to have help. There are three men that particularly stand close to us and when we get into a tight box or a close shave we just naturally look to Gene White, Milt Bergner and Johnny Fertig for help. On behalf of this committee I want to present to each one of these men one of these tokens of appreciation, Mr. Eugene F White, Mr. M. B. Bergner and Mr. John H. Fertig.

Mr. WHITE. Mr. Nothnagle, I certainly do thank you. I cannot understand why I should be given an electric razor because I generally try to keep my face clean coming into the House every day and it is not suggestive at all that I should receive it, but I thank you very much.

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. I want to say to you that Milt Bergner has made his speech. That is the one he always makes.

I would like the Chairman, the Speaker, and the president and the Independent Party to come to the pit of the House, Mr. Andrews. You have been independent, pretty darned independent, but you have been independent. You have been honest and fearless and we don't want to see you go wrong. We have heard you admit that at some time in the past you have stolen chickens. We don't want that to happen again, so we are giving you a duck to keep you from temptation.

Mr. ANDREWS. I may have stolen chickens and I may have sucked eggs, but when I sucked eggs I never hid the shells. I want to tell you the reason for my course here. When I came here I was told to consult one of the oldest members of the House so I sought out Mr. Nothnagle and on all of the stands that I have taken for reasons best known to myself he advised me what to do and I did what he told me.

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. We have heard a lot of oratory here and have seen the waving of a lot of flags, but there is one man here when he gets up and throws up his hands and shouts right loud he spills a lot of oratory. We want to take care of that great brain matter that rests under that unthatched dome. We are going to see that his dome is thatched and we have for Mr. Bennett a little hair restorer for that bald head.

Mr. Brown of Washington, come to the pit of the House. Mr. Brown, you have tried to make yourself heard in more ways that one. I think you have been heard and I hear that in the morning paper there is quite a story about you. You pulled off one that for a "green one" an old timer would not think of. They say that when you could not get a bill out of committee you borrowed it to look at and reported it out yourself. That is pretty smart. Mr. Brown is interested in scholarships and he got this bill out by a ruse of his own, and so that it will not happen again we have had a scholarship printed to present to Mr. Brown and by him to whom he wants. It gives me great pleasure to present to you, Mr. Brown, this scholarship.

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. Mr. Chairman, my heart is too full for utterance. This scholarship reads "Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Governor's Office. To whom these presents shall come, Greetings: You are hereby appointed to a scholarship in Do Be Dumb University. This scholarship is yours to have and to hold together with all of the rights, privileges, powers and emoluments appertaining to it by law or in any way appertaining thereto, for the period of your good behavior." I have just one fault to find with the scholarship and that is that it is for the period of bood behavior. Probably it will not be in force very long. I thank you very much for the scholarship. I will attempt to live up to its precepts.

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. We have a chairman of one of our important committees, a committee formed largely of countrymen, myself included. He has been very fair with us and we have tried to go along with him at all times in his efforts to get things done which he wanted. He did try to get through a bill providing for the use of a pump gun but some one pumped wind into his bill instead, and it blew up and so this committee has decided to present Mr. Ederer wtih a pump gun for his own benefit.

Every morning, for some mornings back at least, there has popped up on this floor a little fellow from across the River who has read off a resolution and he has been able so far to successfully get it across even though objections were raised. There may come a time when Dr. Hutton will not be able to get his resolution across and so the committee wants to provide Dr. Hutton with the material from which he can make some rules of his own.

There has been lots of fun here at the expense of one of our particular members at different times and particularly on the subject just alluded to, but he has stuck to it and he has lots of fun out of that resolution proposition. Today he has had passed against all opposition a fishing bill, and if Mr. Hoopes will come to the front I will give him this fishing rod. Now, Mr. Hoopes, it gives me great pleasure to present you with this. I want to give you some advice; when you try this rod don't bait it with what you have been baiting this House, resolutions and opposition.

Mr. HOOPES. My bill provided for two hooks. There are not two hooks on this.

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. You have two baits and you don't need two hooks, because there is already a sucker on the other end of the rod.

Now, for Pat Connor, Clint Sowers and Jim McClure. These three men, only two of them here, have done their best to save your lives when you thought your throat was parching, and it gives me great pleasure to present to these men something with which they can dispense their beverage.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Chairman, my only regret is that it is only filled with Pinchot beer.

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. The gentleman from Erie, Mr. McCreary. You have complained to the Speaker about having to sit in the back of the House, but now you have to stand in front of the House. I understand that during one of the controversies in this House you took the stand that the Secretary of Public Instruction should be paid for his services in potatoes and in milk, and so today we are handing to you your last payment as a member of this Legislature, we are giving you a bag of potatoes. This is just the same as money in your idea.

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Chairman, I am sorry the bag broke. Gentlemen, I am glad to know that the price of commodities is going up and the value of the dollar is going down, therefore potatoes are increasing in value, and I am going to promise to take these home and plant them. Whatever the result is I will use to pay my taxes. Part of this year's taxes will be paid next fall in potatoes, and I am in dead earnest, I would like to see all of the members of this House and all State officials have their salaries paid in potatoes.

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. Mr. Sarig, will you please come to the pit of the House? Ladies and gentlemen, you see before you now one of the staunch Republi—I mean Democrats, from Berks County. He may borrow Jim McClure's mug, and he is all right from the head up and the feet down. He is a good loyal legislator and this session has only added one more feather to his cap. Mr. Sarig, we want to present you with another feather for your cap.

Now, the first man to start off this session with a bill was the last man to wind it up and if Louie Schwartz will come to the pit of the House we will present him with a little souvenir that he can give to Connie Mack if he wants to, if not he can keep it for himself. Louie, you worked hard to get this bill across, and if you can't have a ball team of your own you can play with this on your own account.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. My young college friend from Delaware, page boys, newspaper men and all the lobbyists and my good friends, I can't help but express my feelings at this opportunity that my good friend Mr. Nothnagle has given to to me at this moment. If it had not been for the cooperation of the members of this House and the members of the Senate, and the newspaper boys and even the opponents against House Bill No. 1, I would not have been in a position to acknowledge the pleasure that the Governor gave me on April 25th, at 9.30 o'clock.

I want to remind you that when the Speaker, with whom I have had the honor and the pleasure to serve since 1927, took the gavel at the beginning of this session he said this: "We now cease to be Republicans, Democrats, Socialists and Independents; we are the people that represent the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, we should all work for the peace and happiness of our people in the state of Pennsylvania."

I want to say to you, ladies and gentlemen of the House, that we are about to close this session, and I think we can all now go back home and serve our constituents as Republicans, Democrats, Socialists and Independents as we see fit.

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. There is another man from Philadelphia that worked hard, harder than Louie Schwartz worked. Mr. Tahl, if you will come to the pit I will be glad to give you this souvenir in recognition of what you have done so far.

Mr. TAHL. I am deeply touched by this.

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. We have with us a man who has a most wonderful voice, a wonderfully sweet singer. If Mr. Metzier will come to the pit I will be glad to give him something fitting for his abilities. We love to hear your wonderful voice and don't want to see it ruined and we are going to ask you to protect your voice with this.

Thomas Wilson, you have worked hard with the school marms, and against them in some cases, but you have worked faithfully and done your duty and next year we want you to have a school bag to carry your bills in.

I have another one for Dr. Steedle but Dr. Steedle don't appear on the surface.

We have been handed a pen. They tell me it is the one that Governor Pinchot vetoed the Sowers beer bill with but I don't believe it, because this one was never used, but I will be glad to turn it over to you Clint, as the pen that vetoed your bill, even if I don't believe it.

Mr. SOWERS. I wonder how many pens vetoed that bill.

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. The Speaker has been handsomely rewarded and I think the rest of you have too but with all you got no one has received as much as the man I will present the next memento to. He takes home the one thing he came here for and has worked for, and, Elwood, it gives me great pleasure to give to you your House Bill No. 22.

Now, as for the rest of you I am just going to call these names and present a little token to you. I have already presented to the House Stenographers their little envelope and to the lady in the Chief Clerk's office we presented a little basket of flowers. Mr. E. E. Moyer, Jno. M. Bain, Quay Hewitt, O. E. Martin, David Hopkins, Harry Hummelstein. There is one for each page boy and his name is on the envelope.

I thank you, Mr. Speaker, for the time I have consumed.

RESOLUTION

THANKING SPEAKER

Mr. RICE offered a resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1933.

As this Legislature adjourns sine die, the Members will return to their homes conscious of having participated in a session torn by conflicting interests, marked by sharp differences of opinion, and prolonged by disagreements, but even more fully conscious of the masterful manner in which the work of the House was directed, and its sessions presided over, by a Speaker who was ever fair, equitable and just.

With the experience acquired by him as a Member during four regular sessions, his well-deserved elevation to the Speakership, found him fully equipped to wield the gavel impartially and without bias. His decisions were unappealed from and his official conduct has met with the full approval of every Member.

Not satisfied to follow the path beaten by former Speakers, he blazed a new trail which made the days easier, added new dignity to the deliberations of the House, and produced orderly decorum where disorder and inattention existed.

The decision to keep the floor of the House free of those who trespassed upon the rights and privileges of, and interfered with the comfort of Members during sessions, was his, and having made it he bravely carried out its every mandate fully and impartially and without bias or favor and his courage has not only won our deep respect and gratitude but made our work easier by reducing disorder to a minimum.

His firm insistence kept the House in session and we close a term of the Legislature with a new record of work accomplished. Never were calendars larger, and never were calendars more quickly cleaned and the work more promptly dispatched; therefore be it

Resolved, That as Members of the House of Representatives, who have so richly benefitted by his leadership and guidance, we express in this manner, our sincere appreciation of his fairness at all times and of his services to us and to the Commonwealth; our gratitude for his help and assistance; and our firm belief in the future that most surely holds for him a reward more truly commensurate with his deserts.

We wish him a continuation of his well-earned advancement in public office, and will watch with pride, and rejoice with him as he goes on to higher place, conscious ever of the fact that no reward can be too great a recognition of his service in the interest of those unfortunate unemployed of the Commonwealth for whom he wrought so well; and be it further

Resolved, That this resolution be spread upon the Journal of the House, and a copy thereof be forwarded to our Speaker, the Honorable Grover C. Talbot, by the Chief Clerk of the House.

(THE CHIEF CLERK, MR. E. F. WHITE, PRESIDING)

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The CHIEF CLERK. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, is recognized.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Chief Clerk, it is a singular fact that the gentleman who should have started the session insistent upon rapping me down should rise in his place and insist upon "wrapping" me up.

This resolution is one of the few things that in these closing hours could by any possibility bring me to my feet.

You know Ole had been courting Olga for about fifteen years, and Olga had always refused him. One evening Ole popped the question and was accepted. They sat in silence for a minute or two, and Olga said "Ole, why don't you say something?" and Ole said "I tank I talk too damn much already."

However, I want to pay tribute to the Speaker, although he has denied to me something I have wanted all my life. I have always wanted to be a martyr. I had it all figured out before I came to this session that here is where I would make good. I thought I would start out by being a little mean, fail to get recognition from the Chair, make no progress of any kind, get rapped down, and I could go home and tell the people what a martyr I was, but he spoiled the thing altogether. He was so eminently fair that I had to play the game on the same level that he played it.

I have watched the speakers of this House since 1909. I have seen them come and go, I have seen them excel in various lines, but I never in all of that time seen a man in the Speaker's chair who has as far as the Members of the House are concerned held them on a more even keel than the Speaker who has presided at this session.

I expect that as the days go by it will probably be necessary for me to oppose the Speaker politically, but I have learned to love him as a brother, and if in our personal relations he at any time finds himself in need to call upon me for aid, succor or assistance, I want to say in the presence of this Assembly that he can command my services.

The CHIEF CLERK. The gentleman from Berks, Mr. Sarig, is recognized.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Chief Clerk and ladies and gentlemen of the House. I have served in this House for eight regular sessions and three special sessions. I have been here at times when it was not always so easy for a minority member, whether he was a Democrat, a Socialist or an independent party member to get full and equal recognition.

I would be ungrateful and derelict in my duty if I were not to add my tribute of respect to the present Speaker, Mr. Grover C. Talbot.

At no time in this session have I noticed any discrimination against any of the minority members, and if there was any discrimination at all I should feel that it has been in our favor rather than against us.

In a body of this kind it is natural that there should be differences of opinion. We differ on hundreds of questions, we represent constituents who differ in their views, people with different backgrounds that go back thousands of years, representing different races, different nationalities and having different interests. It is natural that there should be a lot of criticism against a body of this kind; there always has been. I have never attended a session when there was not criticism of the Legislature and it is naturally bound to be so, because in a body of two hundred and eight men and women, representing different people, different constituencies, it is impossible at times to get together, and there will be debates and differences of opinion not only among the members of the House but among the people as a whole. Some of the criticism levelled against this Legislature no doubt has been justified, a great deal of it I feel has been unjustified and sometimes motivated by selfish purposes. But whatever the disagreements may have been as long as you can feel that the battle has been fought fairly, that no blow has been struck below the belt, as long as it has been a fair, square and open contest there can be no rancor and all of us can go home happy and satisfied.

It is in that respect that our present Speaker stands out as a shining example above all of the speakers under whom I have served in giving to all of the elements in this House a fair and square deal. I believe that every minority member of this House will go home and say that at no time in this session has he or she been discriminated against or given anything but the squarest of square deals.

For these reasons I wish to add to what the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, has said—not only for myself but speaking for all of the other minority members—and I again pay to you, Mr. Talbot, my sincere tribute of respect for the efficient manner in which you have presided over the deliberations of this body.

The CHIEF CLERK. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, is recognized.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Chief Clerk, with a genuine feeling of sincerity I arise to second the resolution offered by the gentlem n from Dauphin, Mr. Rice.

Although we are all anxious for the gavel to strike its last note on the rostrum there is among us a natural feeling of sadness, because as we go today to our respective homes there is the unanswered question: whether we will again return to the comradeships, and the friendships and the activities that here we have enjoyed despite our differences of opinion.

The office of the Speaker of this House is one of great power, one of great responsibility and one of great difficulty, and in this session of the Legislature it has been a most difficulty office to efficiently administer.

Since 1917, when I first came as a member to this House, I have sat under the gavel of five speakers, and as I look back over that period of time, without any of these remarks reflecting on the efficiency and fairness of any of the predecessors of the present Speaker, I have a sense of feeling that the service rendered by the present Speaker ranks in fairness and efficiency and industry beyond the services rendered by any of these previous speakers.

Though the gavel of the present Speaker has often resounded through this House as if behind that gavel there was a feeling unlike the feeling of a fair and equitable administrator, by the attitude that was transmuted to this House through that gavel I am certain that I express the opinion of each member of the House that in the present Speaker we, as the city members and the citizenry of Philadelphia and the entire Commonwealth, have been justly and equitably dealt with.

The CHIEF CLERK. The gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Rhodes, is recognized.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Chief Clerk and Members of the House, for some time we have looked forward to this day with anticipation. We have reached this time with some feeling of regret. For some months we have associated together, we have made new friends and new acquaintances, and naturally we have derived great personal benefit from that, and it will be with a feeling of regret that we will part from these friends and acquaintances today or tomorrow. Possibly we will have an opportunity to renew some of them in the future. A great many of them will not be renewed and these will be, possibly, the last contacts.

This has been a session that, naturally, has reflected the existing cross-currents in our social, economic and industrial life. It has been a most difficult session, in my opinion, for all of us, and it has been a most difficult session in particular for the Speaker of this House.

It has been my privilege to sit as a member of this House under two other Speakers, Mr. Goodnough and Judge Bluett, I am sure that we were all impressed with the fairness and ability of those gentlemen. The present Speaker, in my opinion, has upheld the prestige and the dignity of the great office which he has occupied. He has dealt with all of us on a basis of fairness, a basis of quality. I do not believe that anyone in this session has any criticism of the conduct of the Speaker of this House toward himself or herself.

These have been trying times, naturally. Feelings sometimes have run high, and those feelings have been manifested on the floor of the House, but I am sure that they have not been reflected in any personal antagonism or personal animosity. I believe we have been able to deal with each other during this session regardless of our personal opinions politically and without any resentment in our hearts. The Speaker has reflected that same feeling in my opinion. He has shown that he has been a presiding officer to deal equitably and fairly with and to expedite the legislation that has come before this body and to endeavor to assist in the accomplishment of those things that this great Commonwealth requires in these critical times.

I certainly have to join with the other speakers in adding my testimony to the fairness of Grover C. Talbot as presiding officer of this Assembly, and I am sure that his name will go down in the annals of this great body as one of the best and one of the fairest Speakers that it has ever had.

The CHIEF CLERK. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Steedle, is recognized.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Chief Clerk and ladies and gentlemen of the House, as the spirit prevailed when we opened the session of our desire to act in the capacity of legislators we were all imbued with the spirit of activity.

After each session, upon one's return, it is like leaving the old alma mater at school, grasping the hand in good fellowship and congratulating the friends that you met in past sessions upon their return.

The day of adjournment to me in my years of experience always leaves somewhat of a tear and a touching spot within one's feelings when we depart. Whatever our discourse, and discussions and disagreements were on the floor, on this day we take the blotter and wipe out all disturbances whatever they may be. It is like the two counsel at the table in the court room, as they quarrel and they argue and present pictures of their opinion, so it is with the membership of this body on the day of our adjournment when we say au revoir, and as I said, to me it is always a touching time, because while two hundred and five of us here gathered today, it is without question and it is only a repition of history that of our number here assembled somebody will walk over that path to the far distant land and the activity that we knew of that individual will have passed away. I hope that the Divine Hand will guide each of us until we return back to our places of activity, and I say to each of the members on the floor of the House, both ladies and gentlemen, if it is their heart's desire to return back that they may be privileged to again represent their particular district or county from which they came.

I want to say a word of commendation to the gentleman who has occupied the rostrum as the Speaker of this body. I have served under many Speakers and I say this without fear of contradiction, never has there been a Speaker in the General Assembly of Pennsylvania to my knowledge who has been able to main the decorum as he has maintained it during the session of 1933. Not only that, but his respect to the membership of this body, whether he be a Republican, whether he be a Democrat or whether he be a Socialist politically, I believe he has been fair and fearless, and I want to add my respects to the gentleman from Delaware, Grover C. Talbot, whom I have known from the day that he came into this House to the present, in the sessions gone by, and I particularly refer to the extraordinary session of 1932, he was indeed an ardent worker, full of energy and when he made up his mind to do what he thought was right he stuck to that idea notwithstanding what anybody else may have tried to do to influence him, and that same picture he has portrayed as Speaker.

I want to say to the gentleman as he leaves the hall of this House today that he carries with him the highest tribute that the membership of this body can give to him. Our wish is that on his path through life he may find it free of thorns, and as we say goodbye to each other, again I say to you ladies and gentlemen that it has been a pleasure to have been with you, and I say this especially to the members of the Appropriations Committee with whom I have worked more actively than with any others. I want to say to you ladies and gentlemen that I am grateful for the co-operation that you have extended to me. If it is your wish to come back in 1935, I hope that the hand of guidance will extend to you that privilege to return for the session that is to follow. In departing I say to all you ladies and gentlemen of the House thanks for the kind consideration that you have given to me, and to my friend the Speaker I say good luck and God be with you.

The CHIEF CLERK. The gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, is recognized.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Chief Clerk, I have no intention of making a long speech, but I would feel that I was recreant to my duty if I did not arise to second this resolution.

I particularly admire the fair and just attitude which the present Speaker has taken for the reason that he and I represent opposite poles of political thought. He told us only a few moments ago that he thought that one of the big accomplishments of this Legislature was that it had defeated radical legislation. I, on the other hand, feel that the failure of this Legislature to enact radical legislation has been its greatest mistake. History will tell which of us happens to be right.

The point I want to make is this: When you have a Speaker who disagrees so fundamentally with every idea that I represent, when he recognizes me on every occasion that I have asked for this floor, knowing full well on most of those occasions that I was going to voice ideas that were contrary to his, advocating principles which he believes to be destructive and wrong, and that I would probably attack the political group of which he is one of the leading representatives, then I must pay tribute to that Speaker for his fairness and justice in recognizing me on every occasion when I asked for this floor during the session.

I believe in demoratic government and that is one thing in which the Speaker has proven by his actions that he agrees with me—one of the few things. He has proven that he believes in democractic government, in orderly parliamentary procedure, in letting every one express his viewpoint and then letting the majority decide, which is the fair way to decide things. If we can continue that attitude in our legislative bodies and elsewhere through this changing period it will be well for all of us. I am sure that none of us look forward with pleasure to a condition in this country such as exists in Germany. We do not want a dictatorship. We do not want everybody who disagrees with the person in authority knocked down and put in prison. We want everybody to have a right to express their views and the majority to win. The Speaker has shown by his actions that he believes in that principle, and I want to thank him for the courtesy which he has shown and for the example which he has set.

The CHIEF CLERK. The gentleman from McKean, Mr. Wilson, is recognized.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Chief Clerk, in rising to join the speakers who have preceded me, it is difficult for me not to bring the personal equation in and to express my personal admiration, regard, respect and affection for our presiding officer, and I wish now to publicly say to him and to the House that from my regard for him and with the exercise of Christian fortitude I now forgive him publicly for having appointed me chairman of the Committee on Education.

I wish, Mr. Chief Clerk, to say one thing that possibly has not been said. As one of the committee chairmen who has been charged with an activity under the Speaker and who have worked with him and under him, I wish to express to him on behalf of his committee chairmen and those who have been charged with the carrying out of the work of this House our very great admiration not only for the Speaker personally but also for his many fine personal qualities and for the fine business judgment he has exercised in getting the work of the House done.

The Speakership is a dual role. The Speaker has to preside, he has to keep the House in motion and at the same time he has to drive the work along so that the time of the House will not be wasted and the members get their bills out before we finish the session.

I have seen no Speaker who has exercised greater ability in keeping track of the work and keeping it moving. I doubt if the members who are experienced, Mr. Williams, Mr. Connor, Mr. Flynn and those older members have seen a time in their experience in this House when in the last week of the session they did not have a Tuesday night sesion, and I wish to compliment the Speaker for the way in which he has finished the work, for his uniform courtesy with every one while bringing that about. I think he is to be congratulated and the Commonwealth is to be congratulated in having him in the Chair at this particular time.

He mentioned a word from the Scriptures in speaking to the House. May I say that I think the quotation he was giving could very well be applied to him, and may I finish it for him, if I remember my early training aright. The quotation is "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith." Mr. Speaker, I think as you go away you may take that with you as the judgment of the House on your work during this session.

The CHIEF CLERK. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hart, is recognized.

Mr. HART. Mr. Chief Clerk and ladies and gentlemen of the House, I can add nothing in general to what has already been said in commendation of the Speaker.

I represent a minority group in this House, and for five regular sessions and three extraordinary sessions I have served in this House representing that group. I have served under four Speakers and under no Speaker of this House have I served who has been fairer and squarer in dealing with all the people of Pennsylvania irrespective of race, creed or color.

It has been my pleasure to have served under the present Speaker and to have tried to follow very carefully all his rulings and his dealings with the members of this House. I think I owe it to the fair stand of the Speaker of this House that I have cultivated, together with my colleague here, the fair dealing of every member of this House.

When the Speaker announced his committees the people of my group were astounded to know of the fair dealing that had been meted out to Mr. Harris and myself by our appointment to unusually high standing committees in the House. We have tried to live up to all that has been expected of us by the Speaker.

Last night when we had that wonderful song bird of our group here, the Speaker of this House established a precedent, an epoch in the history of this legislative body when he turned the gavel of this House over to me to preside over this House. That will go from one end of Pennsylvania to another, and there is nothing I can say here that will so benefit the Speaker and those of his party that he represents as will come from the reaction of my people in appreciation of this present Speaker.

The CHIEF CLERK. The gentleman from Blair, Mr. Perry, is recognized.

Mr. DAVID R. PERRY. Mr. Chief Clerk and members of the House, age, wisdom and experience have spoken their words of praise. Now the second of this resolution comes from one of the hundred who occupy these seats for the first time.

This resolution voices in cold words the friendship of many and the respect of all.

In seconding the resolution I am aware of the weakness of this infant nation to express appreciation of those whom they respect and honor. In the Land of the Rising Sun, when a ruler is born, he becomes the Son of God, and for a week amidst parades and all the glories of the Orient he is crowned the ruler and the scepter is placed in his hands.

In our mother land when a king is born he is placed upon a throne and a crown is placed upon his head and they call him king. So it has been down through the history of all nations, the gold has been given to and the scepter placed in the hands of those we fear. With this infant nation we have no nobility, we have no crowns, we have no thrones, but we have one thing that is unexcelled by any other nation, and this House is now bestowing upon that man the greatest honor, one that is higher than all crownse and all thrones, this House is bestowing upon your Mr. Speaker, Mr. Grover C. Talbot, the highest honor that can be paid, and that is, Sir, that you are a man among men.

The CHIEF CLERK. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Bennett, is recognized.

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. Chief Clerk and friends, it is an intense pleasure to be called upon to second this resolution. It will always bloom as a glorious flower of friendship on the hillside of memory that I have served here under this distinguished Speaker.

I first came to this House in 1919, and there only remains, on rough calculation, but twelve members after those fourteen years.

All that you have heard is unncessary for me to repeat. I am a good deal in the position of the boys that were playing together and Johnny had to take it on the run because of the pressure that was brought to bear by his playmates. In trying to escape he had to devise ways and means and in his pathway loomed a hogshead, fortunately without a top and he pulled himself up and dropped inside of the barrel. He heard the crowd surrying by. He was in safety. Then all at once he realized that it was sugar barrel or rather a molasses barrel and the sugar had congealed, and Johnny in the safety of his beautiful retreat, sat down in the middle of the hogshead and said "Oh God! for one hundred tongues to do it justice."

That is appropos to my feelings and my sentiment today. Your Speaker, Mr. Grover C. Talbot, has all the fine characteristics, attributes and virtues that make for leadership. It would be utterly unneccessary to repeat anything that has been said except this: much as I admire the Book of Books and the beautiful quotation that has been rendered in its completion and in its purity and perfection by brother Tom Wilson, I disagree completely, that his race is run.

I believe in looking over his actions and his qualities as Speaker, that I am going to say this: today looking forward through the headlight of tomorrow, I do hope and I do believe, and I think I express the sentiments of every man and woman sitting in this House that when the sun of his service will set over the horizons of tomorrow as Speaker of this House, now or at any other time, that that sun of survice and brilliance and ability and leadership and course of Grover C. Talbot will rise and shine in a more particular heaven on the hill in Harrisburg.

One beautiful thought I would have you carry away with you is this. As we go our devious ways, radiating from this grand, glorious building and from this Assembly, and as we go from Pike to Washington and from Erie to where the Delaware leaves the shores of Philadelphia, we can always feel and always look back on the rays of our ways and see Grover C. Talbot, the exceptional and extraordinary presiding officer of this or any other assembly, and he will be here in glorious service to his state where our thoughts can radiate back to where they emanate from today.

In closing, Mr. Speaker, I congratulate you, sir, I congratulate your family and I hope the sunshine will beam and gleam down the highway of your life without casting a single shadow on you and your beloved ones.

The CHIEF CLERK. The gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Hutton, is recognized.

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Chief Clerk, and members of the House, I regret exceedingly that I was not present at the beginning of these memorable exercises. The occasion reminds me very much of the commencements that we hold in our collegiate institutions. It is with profound regret that we bid farwell one to the other.

As the Chief Clerk has admonished me to speak briefly I will do so. It has been a very profound experience for me in this session to be associated with the men and women of this General Assembly, and I want to take this occasion to express to one and all my very profound regard and sincere appreciation of the very many courtesies that have been extended to me.

As regards our honored Speaker, I heartily subscribe to every sentiment that has been expressed here this morning. I have been very closely associated with the Speaker and I have not only a profound regard but a deep and abiding affection for him as a man, as one of fine instincts and who has ever been guided in the deliberations of this Assembly by a sense of fairness and justice.

I want to say further that it would be proper, I believe, for me on this occasion to express to him my sincere thanks for the very many courtesies and honors that he has bestowed upon me. I hope this will not be as has been suggested, the running of his course. In fact I know it will not be. There are further and higher honers for our beloved Speaker.

I bid you all and him, not farewell, but au revoir.

The CHIEF CLERK. The gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, is recognized.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chief Clerk and members of the House, I would not arise at this time and attempt to further paint into this picture the color that I might add had it not already been so well portrayed.

I do think that I should be accorded the opportunity to place upon the record just one or two thoughts as the man in this House who has been, perhaps, the closest to the Speaker not only during this session but during our previous service in this legislature. I had the privilege and the honor of standing on this floor at the opening of the session and presenting his name as the candidate of the Republican Party for the Speaker of this House. I think at that time I predicted that from the experience and training that he had had he would make a great Speaker. I want to say to you Mr. Speaker, and to the members of this House who are your friends, that you have surpassed all expectation which I had, as high as they were. I knew that you had a splendid conception of the duties of the Speaker, that you had a high regard for the high prerogatives of the Legislature as one of the component parts or branches of the government of the State. I knew you meant to maintain for the members of the Legislature all of their prerogatives and to make it a real force in the State if you could. I want to say to you that you carried that further than I had thought possible at that time. I don't think that any one of us who were close to you felt that you were going to be as successful as you were in some of the changes and reforms that you have accomplished. I know the careful attention that you have given to the business of the Speakership. I know the hours that you have labored behind the scenes that these men know not of. I know you have defended them, I know you have fought for them, whether they have been of your political persuasion or not. I can only say to the members of this House that if you have received equal justice and fair treatment from the Speaker, that I join with the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Sarig, that if you have leaned to either side it has been away from those who have been the closest to you, but for that we bear you no ill will, but only our respect for the way in which you have treated all of us. I only want to add my word as you close friend and colleague that it may be spread upon the record of the House and at this time to wish you all the success that may come to you, and we say to the people of Pennsylvania that you have been faithful over these few things and that we know that you are a fine public servant and that you are qualified for something else and higher.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was unanimously adopted by a rising vote.

Mr. TALBOT. Mr. Chief Clerk and members of the House, the Speaker is deeply appreciative of the kindly words that have been expressed here today and trusts that his life may so continue that he will keep the faith. From the bottom of my heart I thank you.

RESOLUTION

THANKING DIRECTOR AND EMPLOYES OF LEGISLATIVE REFERENCE BUREAU

Mr. SCOTT offered the following resolution which was twice read and unanimously adopted:

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1933.

The Legislative Reference Bureau prepared for introduction during this Session at the request of Members and Departments more than twenty-nine hundred bills and resolutions.

This large number of requests placed upon the Director and the members of the staff of the Bureau a tremendous amount of work which necessitated long hours of thought and study.

The assistance of the Director was of particular value to the members in the matter of advice upon bills requested and those already presented, and always was he found most willing, courteous and obliging in halping those who sought the benefit of his advice.

As a result of the efforts of the Bureau, the work of the Members of this House has been made easier and their cares have been lessened; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House, realizing fully the indefatigable work performed and the long hours of service contributed by him, as well as the value of his advice upon all matters submitted to him, extends to John H. Fertig, Esq., the Director of the Bureau, its thanks for and appreciation of the valuable assistance rendered by him during the Session: and be it

Resolved, That the thanks and appreciation of the House is also extended to Robert S. Frey, Esq., the Assistant Director, and to the other members of the staff of this Bureau for their aid and assistance during the Session; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House to the said Director and Assistant Director of the said Legislative Reference Bureau.

RESOLUTION

RESOLUTION THANKING CHIEF CLERK AND EMPLOYES

Mr. WALL offered the following resolution which was twice read and unanimously adopted:

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1933.

Resolved, That the thanks of the House of Representatives be tendered to Eugene F. White, Chief Clerk; Miss M. Olive Barnett, Assistant to the Chief Clerk; Milton K. Burgner, Resident Clerk; Frank D. Bowman, Superintendent of Store Rooms; James Wettach, Assistant Clerk; William E. Murphy, Assistant Resident Clerk; and Robert Kaufman; Samuel Groskin, Journal Clerk; Quay R. Hewitt and O. E. Martin, Reading Clerks; M. A. Sanders, Desk Clerk; Frank J. Lillie, Message Clerk; William J. Gallagher, Sergeant-at-Arms; Jacob D. Hein, Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms, and their assistants; and all other officers and employes of the House, for the able manner in which they attended to the duties of their respective offices, and the uniform courtesy manifested by them toward all the Members of the House.

RESOLUTION

RESOLUTION THANKING CHAPLAIN

Mr. BLUMBERG offered the following resolution which was twice read and unanimously adopted:

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1933.

Memories of the session that is now passing into history and which, during the weeks of its duration, brought to the members of this House unprecedented problems of government for solution will ever bring to the minds and hearts of the members a most pleasant recollection of him who opened its deliberations each legislative day.

With a voice that carried down into the deep places of our hearts and stirred therein a keen desire to do the thing that would be only to the best interests of the Commonwealth and our fellow-men, and with an utter absence of creed prejudice he invoked each day, in the purest and most beautiful English, an invocation that was both a blessing and an inspiration.

The sincerity of his utterances carried conviction to us of his personal devotion to and belief in a Supreme Power that impressed and helped and aided. Each member of this House goes home today, better for his presence among us and with a fuller feeling of having done the thing that was right and best for those he served; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House extends to the Rev. George F. Conner, the Chaplain of the House, its deep sense of appreciation of his services, its admiration of his broad minded tolerance, and its gratitude for his help and guidance throughout the session. His mere presence among us was an inspiration to right thinking and his words ever held us steady to lofty ideals; and be it further

Resolved, That this resolution be spread upon the Journal of the House, and a copy thereof be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House to the Rev. George F. Conner as a lasting testimonial of our regard for him and a further recognition of his outstanding service to this House and to the Commonwealth.

RESOLUTION

THANKING LEGISLATIVE REPORTERS

Mr. HOOPES offered the following resolution which was twice read and unanimously adopted:

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1933.

Resolved, That the House of Representatives extend its appreciation to all the members of the staff of the Reporters of the Legislative Journal for the highly satisfactory and efficient way in which the debates and proceedings of this session have been reported.

RESOLUTION

THANKING THE PRESS

Mr. LORD offered the following resolution which was twice read and unanimously adopted:

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1933.

Resolved, That the thanks of the House of Representatives be tendered to the Press for the satisfactory manner in which they have reported the proceedings of this legislative session to the public.

RESOLUTION

THANKING BUREAU OF PUBLICATIONS AND PRINTER

Mr. QUINN offered the following resolution which was twice read and unanimously adopted:

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1933.

Whereas, During the Session that is now closing, the amount of printing has been greater than ever because of the increased number of bills introduced and the large number of voluminous codes included among them; and

Whereas, The unusual labor placed thereby upon the Public Printer and the Director of the Bureau of Publications has been most successfully performed without any inconvenience being caused to this Legislature; and

Whereas, Great credit is due to the said Director of the Bureau of Publications and to the State Printer for their cooperation in keeping the files up to date and making possible the consideration of bills as they appeared on the daily calendar; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives hereby extends its congratulations to John R. Hood, the Director of the Bureau of Publications, and to the Public Printer, for their contribution to the work of the Session; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House forward copies of this resolution to the said Director of the Bureau of Publications and to the Public Printer.

RESOLUTION

THANKING PAGE BOYS

Mr. NOTHNAGLE offered the following resolution which was twice read and unanimously adopted:

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1933.

Resolved, That the thanks of the Members of the House of Representatives be tendered to Harry H. Hummelstine and his Pages for their agility and fleetfootedness.

RESOLUTION

THANKING HOUSE STENOGRAPHERS

Mr. JOHN J. WILLIAMS offered the following resolution which was twice read and unanimously adopted:

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1933.

Resolved, That the thanks of the House of Representatives be extended to the House stenographers for their courteous and efficient service during this session.

RESOLUTION

THANKING CLERKS OF COMMITTEES

Mr. RICE offered the following resolution which was twice read and unanimously adopted:

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1933.

Resolved. That the House of Representatives extend its thanks and appreciation to the Clerks of Committees for their good work during this session.

RESOLUTION

EXTENDING SYMPATHY TO HON. A. R. WHEELER

Mr. WILSON offered the following resolution which was twice read and unanimously adopted:

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1933.

As we leave this House today to return to our homes after a prolonged session of the Legislature, we carry with us a deep regret that its labors were not made easier by the advice, counsel and assitance of that soldier, scholar and statesman, the Honorable Alexander R. Wheeler of Forest County, who was again prevented from being with us, due to ill health, therefore be it

Resolved, That the House extends to the said Honorable Alexander R. Wheeler its very best wishes for his speedy restoration to full health, and its assurance that it has missed his presence during the session and the benefit that his counsel and his experience would have been during its labors for the common good, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the said Honorable Alexander R. Wheeler.

SENATE MESSAGE

SENATE ADOPTS CONFERENCE COMMITTEE REPORT ON HOUSE BILL NO. 413

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has adopted the report of the Committee of Conference on the subject of the difference existing between the two Houses on Senate Bill numbered and entitled as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 413.

STATEMENT BY MR. RECTENWALD

Mr. RECTENWALD asked for and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

I regret that this morning, with its hilarity and joy, I must introduce into this session a serious matter.

I will read to you a letter which I have received.

COUNTY OF ALLEGHENY
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Chas. C. McGovern, Chairman,
W. D. Mansfield,
C. M. Barr,
Commissioners.

Office of the County Commissioners

May 4th, 1933.

Mr. Jos. A. Rectenwald, 437 Walde St., 16th Ward, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir:

On account of recrganization of County Offices and change in personnel, I have been directed to advise you that the Board of County Commissioners have this day removed you from your position in the Board of Tax Revision, same to be effective as of today.

Yours very truly,

W. T. REES,
Chief Clerk.

b/cy/Controller.
cy/George Meyers/cy

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, the letter I have just read to you is the result, I think clearly and positively the result of House Bill No. 22. Just a few weeks ago when we voted on this bill Mr. Myers, the chairman of the Board of Tax Revision, of the County of Allegheny, called me up in this House and told me to vote against House Bill No. 22. I told him I was consistent, having already voted "aye" and would continue to do so. I said "It's strange that the Commissioners didn't know that I was a member of this House until today." Then a few days later, on a Saturday, to be specific, one of our prominent and newly-appointed judges called me up and told me that the "old man" had called him up, and that he had been told to bring a little pressure to bear on me, because a certain member from the Board of County Commissioners had told him that he could do so. I said to this judge, "Who is the old man," and he said, "Why, that's the Governor." So you can see how the Governor has tried to defeat House Bill No. 22. He or some of his followers have said he was for political economy.

I want to say to you, with all due respect to my colleagues from Allegheny County and also to those working for the County Commissioners that I am the only man in the County of Allegheny that economy really hit. There were three of us elected from the County Commissioners' office, and I was the only man to get docked. The other two are getting their salaries. So, the commissioners and those connected with my discharge as an employee of the county for my actions in this House, these people and their tactics are entitled to whatever pleasure they may receive from depriving me and my family of a means of livelihood.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman from Allegheny under a question of statement will be spread upon the Journal.

RESOLUTION

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, May 4, 1933.

Whereas, Charges have been made that Members of the Securities Commission have been improperly permitting the sale of certain securities in this State; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate appoint three Senators, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint three Members of the House of Representatives, who together shall constitute a joint legislative committee whose duty it shall be to investigate the affairs and records of the Securities Commission and to ascertain whether securities have been permitted to be sold improperly in this State and to investigate such other matters and affairs of said Commission as the committee deems advisable.

Resolved That said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman, requiring and commanding any person to appear before it and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the same force and effect as subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of the committee shall have power to administer oaths or affirmations to witnesses appearing before it. Any person who shall wilfully neglect and refuse to appear and testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties, provided by the laws of this Commonwealth in such cases.

Resolved, That said committee shall make report of its findings at the next session of the General Assembly.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

RESOLUTION

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, April 25, 1933.

Whereas, The continued depreciation of the value of securities has brought about a material shrinking of the assests of closed banks now being liquidated by the Department of Banking; and

Whereas, There are many complaints that an unduly large percentage of the assets of corporations in receivership are used up in the expenses of receiverships and in the payment of salaries and fees; and

Whereas, It is the desire of the General Assembly that the assets of closed banks be preserved to the fullest extent for the benefit of depositors therein and creditors; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate appoint three members of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint three members of the House of Representatives, who, together shall constitute a joint legislative committee, whose duty it shall be to investigate the affairs of the Department of Banking with respect to closed banks and other closed financial institutions, to ascertain whether the assets of such banks and institutions are being carefully preserved, the affairs of such institutions economically administered, and the assets of such institutions liquidated to the best advantage for the interests of creditors and depositors;

Resolved, That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the same force and effect as subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee Any persons who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases

Resolved, That said committee shall make report of its findings to the next session of the General Assembly.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

In the House of Representatives, May 4, 1933.

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That House Bill No. 427, Printer's No. 954, entitled:

An Act making an Appropriation to the Sleighton Farm School For Girls situate in Delaware County Pennsylvania be returned to the Governor without amendment.

SENATE MESSAGE

CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 87

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1933.

Whereas Bills codifying and revising the law relating to the Insurance Department and insurance companies have been presented to this session of the Legislature and there is not sufficient time for the Senate and House of Representatives to complete studies of these codes so as to authorize their adoption at this session of the Legislature therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate appoint three members of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint four members of the House who together shall constitute a joint legislative committee whose duty it shall be to study House Bill Number nine hundred twenty-six known as the "Insurance Department Code" and House Bill Number one thousand four hundred known as the "Insurance Code" to prepare such corrections and amendments to said codes as may be deemed necessary and to resubmit said bills with the corrections and amendments to the legislative session of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five

Resolved That an item of two thousand dollars ($2,000) be inserted in the General Appropriation Bill to pay the expenses of the members of said committee

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED RESOLUTION RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned resolution from the House of Representatives, as follows:

RESOLUTION No. 91

In the House of Representatives, May 2, 1933.

Whereas It has been brought to the attention of the Legislature by the public press and by studies of the Department of Labor and Industry that children are employed under intolerable conditions and

Whereas Such children are alleged to be earning as little as one dollar a week and

Whereas State and federal relief funds are alleged to be used to subsidize the existence of sweatshops at the expense of the state and of other employers and

Whereas It appears that children who should be in school are taking the employment from adults charged with the responsibility of families and

Whereas It appears that the low rates of pay accepted by children are lowering wages for adults and that the manufacturing workers in Pennsylvania receive a lower average weekly earning than the same class of employes in any other Northern State except New Hampshire and

Whereas There is a grave danger that more sweatshops will come into the state following the passage by New York New Jersey and New Hampshire of minimum wage laws within the past month therefore

Be It Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the Speaker of the House appoint three members of the House to a special committee to make a study of this situation that the President of the Senate appoint three members of the Senate and that the Governor be requested to appoint three members from the public at large and that the Department of Labor and Industry be authorized to delegate representatives to aid in this study and be it further

Resolved That said special committee be instructed to report to the General Assembly at its next regular or special session and be it further

Resolved That the Governor be requested to include the subjects of child labor and minimum wage in any call he issues for any special session

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The amendments were read by the Clerk, as follows:

Amend page 2, line 12 by striking out the words "and be it further resolved."

Also by striking out of lines 13, 14 and 15.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

They were concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED RESOLUTION RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned resolution from the House of Representatives, as follows:

RESOLUTION No. 79

In the House of Representatives, April 25, 1933.

Whereas The legislation introduced and pending during this session of the Legislature on school matters has brought to those who have been devoting their time to school affairs a knowledge of the increasing load of taxation for school purposes that is being forced upon the taxpayer and

Whereas It has become evident that the property owner can no longer endure the payment of the excessive tax rate that is imposd upon him by reason of the requirements of the school law and that school districts will become bankrupt and their schools closed if no relief is afforded therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That a committee of three Senators to be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate and four members of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker of the House is hereby constituted a Legislative Committee to investigate the cause of the increasing cost of education to the school districts and methods whereby such cost can be reduced

Such committee shall make a report of their investigation to the next session of the Legislature and shall accompany their report with recommendations of any changes it feels would result in lowering the cost to local communities of conducting their schools and with copies of drafts bills intended to carry out its recommendations

The members of said committee shall receive no compensation for their services but shall be reimbursed for their actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend page 2, line 8 by striking out the words "but shall be reimbursed for their actual and necessary expenses in the performance of their duties."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

They were concurred in,

Ordered, that the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. DUNMIRE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House do non concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections, the Chair will declare a recess for one hour. Are there objections?

The Chair hears none, and a recess was declared for one hour.

AFTER RECESS

The SPEAKER (Grover C. Talbot) in the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The time of recess having expired, the House will be in order.

STATEMENT BY MR. WITKIN

Mr. WITKIN asked for and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I know that this is a most inopportune time to endeavor to address you at length. I wish, however, to ask your indulgence for just a few moments in order that I may make a formal or, rather, an informal report to you concerning the investigation of the Joint Highway Investigating Committee. I have on my desk a detailed report. It is not as detailed as we would like to have it be, but the pressure of legislative business and other work has prevented a more explicit report being made to you. I want to say to you that I shall not endeavor to read that report, but I shall ask at the conclusion of my few remarks to you to have it spread upon the Legislative Journal.

I shall, however, take this opportunity of reviewing for you that which I think you do not know concerning the Highway Department of the State of Pennsylvania. Each and every charge that I shall make, each and every allegation that I shall endeavor to set forth, I challenge the Secretary of Highways or the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to refute. I want to say to you members of the House that I have concrete and definite evidence concerning every charge that I make regarding the Highway Department, and although time will not permit me to give you the specific evidence, it is available, it is contained in the testimony produced before that committee.

It has revealed extensively padded payrolls, it has revealed crookedness of the worst character, it has revealed conspiracies between persons who hired or rather leased trucks to the Highway Department and the authorities of the Highway Department, and it has shown that these men have cheated and defrauded the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania out of large sums of money. It has further shown that after the conspiracy was revealed and after it was found that the Commonwealth had been cheated and defrauded through crooked employes of the money that the persons who were responsible for that crookedness and the conspirators continued to remain upon the payrolls of the Highway Department by and with the consent and knowledge of his Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and in many instances, ladies and gentlemen of this House, they are still upon the payrolls of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. It has revealed that men who have been convicted of crimes against the United States government, who have been convicted of crimes against the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, through the sponsorship of the political representatives of Gifford Pinchot, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, continued to be upon the payrolls of the Highway Department while honest men and women can not obtain employment. It has shown that there has been a general practice of fraudulent manipulation of the cost of maintenance and construction of miles and miles of roads by transferring from one route number to another route number the various items of charges, so much so, members of the House, that it is set forth in the report that it is a general practice. It has shown that men were paid out of Highway funds and out of State funds for the purpose of attending political rallies in the various counties in the interests of Gifford Pinchot immediately before the election. It has further shown that machinery was moved and equipment placed upon roads that we were not yet authorized to the particular superintendent in the particular county the day before election for the specific purpose of being able to say to the people that the road is about to move and, therefore, vote for the representative of Gifford Pinchot. It has shown these facts, members of this House, not in one instance, not in two, but as a general practice. There has not been an investigation of a single county where an investigation was made in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by the representatives and the inspectors that made that investigation which gave a single county a clean bill of health. Every county that was investigated revealed crookedness and crookedness of the worst and the most insidious character. I say for the Secretary of Highways, Sam Lewis, that he has my utmost sympathy, his hands were tied, he was throttled, he is no more the Secretary of Highways than any one of the men or women within hearing of my voice. He had to do as the omnipotent hand told him to do, and he did it. For him I have sympathy. He bowed to a great will and, unfortunately for him, that great will sent him letters through the secretary of the Governor at that time in which he was told, in no unmistakable terms, "You recognize so and so," and I believe it was in Crawford county a man by the name of Culbertson had sent to the Highway Department, through the Governor's office, a letter in which the superintendent of Crawford county was told, "You shall and you will recognize Culbertson as the political sponsor and representative of my office and all appointments within your county should receive his sponsorship." Who was Culbertson? Culbertson was the man who admitted that he planted liquor and framed a superintendent or a garage foreman, in order that that superintendent or garage foreman might be removed from office, and that man was removed from office, and Culbertson subsequently admitted that he planted the liquor there. A Pinchotite was thereupon appointed and took the place of the garage foreman, and as I have not heard of any change I believe he is still there, and the man who had the liquor planted upon him is still not in the employ of the Highway Department, and Culbertson, I understand, is still the Pinchot representative in Crawford county.

It has amazed me. I started out as part of the investigating committee believing that the Highway Department was extravagant, believing it was honest, I did not dare think to myself that a department, that is the Governor's exclusively, could be so base, so crooked and so rotten.

The Governor has taken time after time the opportunity of attacking us in Philadelphia. I want to say to you, ladies and gentlemen of the House, that we would not dare stoop to the things that the Highway Department investigation reveals. As shown by the testimony, in every county, for example in Pike county, when the Governor's wife was a candidate for Congress, the amount of political work that was thrown into Susquehanna county was such that there were three operators for every piece of equipment that there was within the county. I know of one district——I will give you the best example of the "Cuban Army" I have ever known. The records show that in one district there were sixteen engineers, twenty-one inspectors, twenty-two draftsmen, six party chiefs, three instrument men and one chain man, and I refer you what we said in this statement. "Imagine, ladies and gentlemen, the unenviable position of this single chain man responding to the whims and caprices of sixty-eight bosses, when it is said to you "Do this and do that and we will have more money for unemployment," I say when the poor and the destitute are starving while the Governor is using the Highway Department to build up a political machine for himself and himself only that it is the greatest atrocity and the greatest injustice that I can possibly conceive of in my mind, and I know it is astonishing and amazing to even the closest Pinchot adherents within the sound of my voice.

We have the remarkable statement made by the Secretary of Highways in which he says he thinks it is all right to employ thieves, men who had been thieves in lieu of honest men. He said that thieves should be given an opportunity of redemption. I agree with him, but I say honest people should come first.

Members of the House, I do not want to take up any more of your time, but there is going to be forwarded to you within the next few days a copy of this report. I want to say to you that it is but a skeleton outline. I would if I had had the time been able to delve into hundreds of pages of testimony, but the pressure of legislative work has prevented me from so doing, and I would that I were able to point out to you the many and manifold examples of the things that I have told you, and I say what we want to do and what this Committee is going to do is to continue this work after the Legislature adjourns, and we are going to try, and I say we have succeeded in compelling the Secretary of Highways to dismiss certain employes whom even the Governor, after our revelations, could not possibly retain.

Do not take my word for what I have said, do not believe me, if you will, but the opportunity will be given to any one of you, who asks me to look at the testimony, to bear out my statements. I am not asking to have this testimony incorporated in the Legislative Journal, because the expense involved would be tremendous, but at the proper time if we come back or when we come back there will be a very thorough report giving specific instances placed before you, and when you hear and when you listen to that report, and when you hear of crooked departments here, there and everywhere, I say to you that you have the right, unless you believe that I tell you an untruth, to say to his Excellency, the Governor, "Before you preach to me, before you tell me to clean up my house, clean up your house, clean up your own house, Mr. Governor, and clean it up damn quick."

Mr. Speaker, I ask that my remarks set forth in this written statement be spread upon the Legislative Journal.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia will be spread upon the Journal and the report will be spread in full upon the Legislative Journal.

REMARKS OF MR. WITKIN IN RE HIGHWAY INVESTIGATION

Mr. Speaker, and ladies and gentlemen: I know that the average Pennsylvanian's interest in good roads and in the State Highway Department centers in and revolves about the question of whether a good road will pass his property, or make accessible the place to which he wants to go. I am forced to admit that the average citizen is inclinded not to be interested in the manner in which he gets that road, or in its cost. And I regret, that members of the Legislature and citizens generally could not have sat through the several hearings of the legislative committee named to investigate the Highway Department and its methods of operation. I am sorry the newspapers were physicially unable to give those hearings the space they deserved. For it is the truth, ladies and gentlemen, that what your committee heard led it unerringly to the conclusion that politics has made a sorry mess of the largest department of the State government.

Unfortunately your committee was unable to carry its investigation to a conclusion, but you have voted to continue its existence. And before the next session of the Legislature we hope we shall be able to present concrete recommendations which will restore to the department its old-time prestige. Meanwhile I break no confidence when I tell you the committee was amazed at what it discovered. Despite the maneuvering of artful dodgers, despite the presentation of clever alibis, despite the attempts to smother facts, despite the frantic efforts to explain the inexplicable, your committee uncovered enough to convince it that a radical reorganization of the Highway Department is an absolute necessity.

Ladies and gentlemen, gone are the days when the Department of Highways was "out of politics," and Highway Department promotions were made on the basis of merit. In the county of Susquehanna, for example—a county that is part of the congressional district of which Pike is also a member, political exigencies required that the reigning family lift a coal miner from the depths and catapult him into the position of road superintendent for the district. There was a time when a road superintendent was made, not borne of political necessities. But that time is ended.

Considering the amount of construction under way, and planned for the future, the Highway Department is a tremendously over-manned institution.

Once a huge engineering force was necessary, but now the department's prime efforts are directed along new lines and it is pure extravagance to keep that force intact. Yet that is what is being done by the Governor of this Commonwealth. And hundreds of thousands of dollars are paid high-priced help which would go a long way toward alleviating the misery of the unemployed the Governor is so anxious to help.

Highway department districts are beginning to resemble the Cuban army, so small is the actual working force and so great the number of directing chiefs. The department's records show that in one district there are 16 engineers, 21 inspectors, 22 draftsmen, six party chiefs, three instrumentmen and one chainman. Imagine, ladies and gentlemen, the unenviable position of this single chainman, responding to the whims and caprices of 68 bosses!

It was the privilege of your committee to go deeply into the situation in Susquehanna county. And what we found forced us to agree with the report of L. K. Miller, special investigator for the Highway Department, who declared on September 6, 1932, that "the eighteen page report of the audit and inspection of the accounting procedure shows this district in a deplorable condition."

The coal miner, it seems, was out of his element, for the Miller report declares—and our testimony substantiated the statement—that "the supervision usually assumed by the superintendent in this district is delegated to the assistant superintendent."

The Highway Department's own report—not successfully contradicted in our hearings, revealed inumerable irregularities, including misuse of department equipment, disregard of instructions relating to employment of jobless men, juggling of gasoline and oil accounts, repair of rented equipment without authority, removal of department tools and implements, employment of a timekeeper on jobs which did not have sufficient work to keep the timekeeper busy. The report showed violation of rental regulations, employment of Highway department workmen on repairs to a baseball diamond, use of Highway Department equipment to transport ball players. I quote sentences from the report:

"The practice of using State-owned cars, State time and the State-paid-for telephone for ball games and bowling was prevalent in this district. It was found that time was allowed hourly employes while away from the road and their work to attend political meetings and private business. Foremen and timekeepers were allowed full time on rainy days, even though they left the road and went home. A privately owned tractor was paid for as a team by Foreman Ernest Smith. He allowed nine horse-hours for every five tractor-hours."

The auditors of the department established overpayments by several foremen and timekeepers, and procured refunds of the amounts overpaid workmen. Irregular and highly questionable procedure in the purchase of stone and gravel were found. It developed that the father-in-law of the assistant road superintendent owned and operated a stone company from which much material was purchased. And it also developed that the father of this assistant superintendent was employed by the State Highway Department as a checker of stone materials under the direct supervision of his son.

Gravel checkers were paid full time for days on which no gravel was delivered. Employes in the county office attempted to deceive officials in Harrisburg as to the quality of materials purchased. Gravel companies made adjustments to correct short weights. Stone companies resorted to "political drag" to correct discriminations against them. Substitutions of materials were made.

Jobs costs were irregularly charged. Rented and Department equipment were used on one route, and the cost was charged to another. Sometimes equipment was operated without any charge. And on other occasions steam shovels, carrying high rental charges, were charged against jobs only for the number of hours the foreman decided the job could carry, regardless of the actual working hours. Labor and materials were charged to routes and operations other than where they were actually used, and when jobs accounts were overdrawn charges previously entered in the ledgers would be transferred to jobs having an unexpended balance. Juggling was so extensive that doubt is cast on all Highway figures. Erroneous costs were forwarded to Harrisburg. Men were paid for work not done, and numerous refunds were collected. Work was done without proper authorization, And persons responsible for crooked timekeeping blamed their misdeeds on instructions given them by foremen. In one instance such a foreman was discharged, but the timekeeper lingered on——and does today, unless he has recently been discharged.

It is a notable fact, Mr. Speaker, that the majority of Highway employes against whom irregularities were uncovered are still on the payroll. "Not guilty," said the head-men of the department——"not guilty, but don't do it again."

But politics is not confined to the congressional district in which a prominent gentlemen's wife recently conducted an unsuccessful sortie against congressional redoubts. Crawford county, at the other end of the State, is at the mercy of political strategists. In that county, it developed during our hearings, a supporter of the mysterious dogmas known as the Pinchot policies was made the political overlord. None could have jobs without the laying on of his hands. And eventually he became of such tremendous power, thanks to the ministering angels in Harrisburg, that he actually dictated the operations of the Highway department in Crawford county. In order to convince the people of a certain territory that a promise of improvement was about to be fulfilled, and that they would be justified in voting to continue the legendary Pinchot policies, he directed that department equipment be moved to a certain road the day before the primary election. And when it became time for explanation, attaches of the department in Harrisburg and elsewhere declared that the man who gave the direct order to place the equipment knew that the road would be built sometime, and was merely forearming himself against delay.

In that county, ladies and gentlemen, an employe of the Highway department was discharged as the result of a "framing" arranged by the Pinchot sponsor. Liquor was planted, and the man's place was speedily taken by another who promised to walk humbly with the Pinchot gods. Later it came to light that the discharged man had been "framed." The sponsor expressed regret that he aided in perpetrating such a wrong. The Highway department gave the discharged employe a clean bill of health, and also expressed its regret. But the employe was not taken back.

In that county, too, we find evidences of many wrong-doings. The county superintendent alleged that during the summer of 1932 the Pinchot sponsors required him to place so many equipment operators on the payroll that he had two or three for each piece of equipment in the county. Department material was used for a private work. Employes got overtime pay, although they did not work overtime. Laborers were on the payroll who had nothing to do. Men were fired without reason other than they were not wanted by the sponsors. The superintendent declared that his hands were tied——that he could do nothing because of the political overlords——that he would be fired as a result of the inquiry made by Department auditors. And that was an excellent prediction, ladies and gentlemen. He was fired. His name was in a list of dismissals made public last week by the highway department.

Our committee went thoroughly into charges made by department auditors relating to Elk and Cameron counties, and there again many irregularities were uncovered. Fraudulent time was a feature of the payrolls. In one instance a garage man refunded approximately $1,900 paid him on a fraudulent payroll.

But tme is too short, Mr. Speaker, to go into the details of all we found. We found plenty. And there is more to be uncovered. Meanwhile, let us get away from the fiddling, the fumbling, the stalling and the buck-passing of Highway department attaches. I do not find it in my heart to blame them for trying to pretect themselves and their department. These are parlous times. Work is scarce. Good jobs are few. And if one can hold a job by doing as the High Command would have him do, who will blame him?

I have all the sympathy in the world for Samuel S. Lewis, Secretary of the Highway department, I knew him when he was Auditor General and when he was State Treasurer. He was and is an honest, capable official. He is doing the best he can, in the company he is in. I sympathize with him more than I can tell you. For the first time in his life he occupies a menial position. He is the victim of the head-man. In this, of course, he does not differ from other departments heads under the present administration. The Governor is directly in charge of each department. The decisions are his. The polices are his. Everything is his but the blame. And I am dreadfully afraid that when the legislature is out of the way his Excellency will decide to discharge his Secretary of Highways. The capable gentleman from York will follow the lamented Jim Malone, Secretary of Property and Supplies, who lost his official head because he refused to follow devious political ways.

Mr. Lewis has tried to do a good job. But he has been hampered and hamstrung at every opportunity by the chief executive of this Commonwealth, and by politicians of lesser dimension who fringe the throne. An incident at the very beginning of our investigations proved to your committee that facts are inconsequential in Governor Pinchot's scheme of things. And it proved that the Governor is a ruthless despot, willing to stoop low to goin an end.

At our very first hearing Secretary Lewis told us of the Governor's plan to add 53,000 miles of township road to the State Highway system. And before I proceed, let me tell you that the bill sponsored by the Governor provided that all remaining roads in second-class townships be taken over by the State. The total is more than 55,000——not the 53,000 harped upon and prated about for the last four months by the chief executive. The Governor practiced deception from the day of his first announcement of the very end of this session. And the cost of maintaining the extra mileage represented in 55,000 odd miles is no small item. But not, of course, in the philosophy of Gifford Pinchot.

To resume: At that first hearing Secretary Lewis was asked if he approved the taking over of 53,000 miles of township road. He replied that as a member of the Governor's cabinet he did. But he told use that the Governor had never asked his advice about the prosposal. He had talked maintenance cost, however——and Secretary Lewis told him it would average $250 per mile per year.

At our very next hearing, the following week, your committee received a surprising letter signed by the Governor, Mr. Lewis and Samuel Eckels, departmental engineer, in which Lewis' previous testimony was entirely and strangely reversed. In that joint letter Lewis declared the Governor had participated in numerous conferences relative to his program. And he said further that for $105 a mile per year the State Highway department would maintain the township roads far better than they had ever been maintained by township supervisiors.

Quite a difference, ladies and gentlemen, between $105 per mile per year and $250 per mile per year. But to prove to you that the left hand of the Highway department does not know what the right hand is doing, we produced at that hearing an article from the Engineering News-Record, written by P. M. Tebbs, third in authority in the Highway department, in which Tebbs declared that the cost of maintaining the 20,000 miles of road taken over in August of 1931 would average $1,000 per mile per year. With our resources at low ebb, is it any wonder that your committee saw reason to stop, look and listen before approving this loudly-advertised 53,000 mile program? And for your information, let me tell you that our hearings developed the fact that the department's plans for the 53,000 miles included maintenance only——and little if any construction unless new taxes were provided.

Mr. Speaker, this so-called 53,000 mile program——a program that was really a 55,000-plus program, was a political fake——the gesture of a psychopathic mountebank who craved applause. Proof of fakery is contained in the Governor's budget, presented to the legislature last January. Take the item relating to construction and reconstruction on the 20,000-mile program. For "new construction of light types" $21,000,000 was provided——a sum sufficient to put down 3,300 or 3,400 miles. But the footnote for that particular item, as you will see in the budget, decalred that "funds to maintain the 53,000 mile will come from this item."

What a monstrous bit of fakery and quackery, Mr. Speaker. At Mr. Lewis' figure of $250 a mile the maintenance of 53,000 miles of road means $27,00,000 for two years. And how can even a magician of Mr. Pinchot's merit get $27,000,000 out of $21,000,000.

How often have you heard Mr. Pinchot say that his program would save $9,000,000 a year to township taxpayers, or $18,000,000 for the biennium. But has he told you that if you had placed that additional mileage on the State Highway department the next legislature would have had to increase automobile and truck registration fees, drivers licenses and the gasoline tax? Has he told you that the next Governor of Pennsylvania would have found himself not only without funds, but without hope of getting any unless new revenues were provided?

You have heard Mr. Pinchot's statement that for $105 a mile he would maintain earth roads better than townships ever maintained them. It is more fakery. Seventy-five per cent. of maintenance costs is in labor. The Highway Department would employ the same men as were hired by the townships. And nowhere in Pennsylvania do townships pay labor rates as high as those paid by the Highway Department. Townships pay 25% to 50% less. Then how could Mr. Pinchot maintain dirt roads as well as townships when 75% the total cost is labor.

The truth about that township mileage is that it is not all earth roads, as the Governor would have you believe. Eight thousand miles of it are improved roads—higher types that would require far more than $105 per mile per year for maintenance. And if you followed the testimony before our committee you will remember the declaration of Engineers H. E. Hilts and Julius Adler, who proved conclusively that over a period of ten years, according to the department's own figures, the Highway Department spent $448 per mile per year for earth road maintenance. So what becomes of Mr. Lewis' first figure of $250 per mile, and his second figure of $105 per mile?

Those Highway figures are strange creatures, Mr. Speaker. The engineers told us that Tebbs was wrong in his Engineering News-Record article—wrong on that $1,000 a mile figure. They said—and by "they" I mean the engineers ordered to bolster Mr. Pinchot's cause unless they wanted to lose their jobs—they said the actual figure for the 20,000-mile system was $611 per mile per year. Yet Julius Adler swore that the department's own figures over a ten-year period show actual cost was $941 per mile per year.

While Mr. Pinchot's highway department is following orders —while it it talking about relieving taxpayers, it is neglecting the Commonwealth's main highway system. Traffic does not decrease on those roads, but maintenance appropriations do. Maintenance costs should increase as the years go by, for the age of roads makes necessary much additional work.

The budget of the Governor proves our contention as to main highway neglect. For maintenance of State highways and State-aided highways in 1927-1929 the department set aside $23,000,000. In 1931-1933 the allocation was $15,000,000. For the coming biennium it is $17,000,000. And the truth is that the maintenance appropriation for the next two years should be as high or higher than for 1927-1929.

Mr. Pinchot's boasts include the so-called feat of greatly reducing the cost of surface treatments—the treatment commonly known as road oiling. But I have it on high engineering authority that what the department saves it quickly loses because more frequent applications of material are required. Drive anywhere in Pennsylvania and note the macadam surfaces from which last year's chip layer has entirely or almost entirely disappeared.

It is well for members of this House, and of the Senate, that the Legislature did not humor Mr. Pinchot on his original 53,000-mile program. It would have meant political oblivion. The much advertised relief for taxpayers would have affected only second-class township residents. Not a penny would have been saved to men and women of cities, boroughs and first class townships. And in these latter districts the tax sale percentage is far higher than in the sparsely settled townships for which the Governor has been so solicitous. In these districts, too, live the vast majority of car owners and car drivers—the men and women who would have shouldered a ten-cents-per-horsepower increase in passenger car registration fees, a $25 to $100 increase in truck fees, a $2 increase in drivers' registration fees, and a two-cent increase in the gasoline tax. Fortunately that cup has passed from us. In this one particular we have not been bamboozled by the wizard of words.

Mr. Speaker, and ladies and gentlemen, your committee will continue its efforts. I can only hope that from time to time the newspapers will tell Pennsylvanians what we uncover. And I trust that the Legislature which convenes in 1935 will enact legislation which will put an end to things as we have found them.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WITKIN. I Will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia advise the House approximately upon what date his investigation began?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, my recollection is between the fifteenth and 20th of January, but I can not be certain as to the exact date.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia advise the House approximately when the investigation was concluded?

Mr. WITKIN. It has not been concluded, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia advise the House since approximately what date he had the information which he has now presented to the House?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, from that date down to the present time the information has been accruing to me.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia advise the House of the first date when he became informed of the criminal and iniquitous conduct of State employes which he has here described?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I became apprised of it before the Legislature came into Session. I wrote to the Governor of the iniquitous practices that exists and Mr. Lewis in his testimony admitted that the iniquitous practice had been stopped as a result of my letter to the Governor on December 19, 1932, and I made the remark that it was a high state of affairs when it took a gentleman from Philadelphia to inform the Governor or to attempt to call to the Governor's attention one of the most iniquitous practices that had ever been present in the Highway Department.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia state to the House, responsively, the approximate date when as a result of his investigation under the legislative resolution he first ascertained that there was crime in the State Highway Department?

Mr. WITKIN. I would say that the first evidence of actual stealing with the consent apparently or without the condemnations of the Governor came to me some time in the latter part of February of this session.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED SENATE BILL RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented for concurrence bill numbered and entitled as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 640.

An Act to amend the first "Whereas" clause, the first paragraph of article one, clause (d) of article two nine and article ten of section one, and section two as amended, of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 1352), entitled "An act providing for joint action by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey in the administration, operation, and maintenance of bridges over the Delaware River, and for the construction of additional bridge facilities across said river; authorizing the Governor, for these purposes, to enter into an agreement with the State of New Jersey; creating a Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission and specifying the powers and duties thereof, including the power to finance the construction of additional bridges by the issuance of revenue bonds to be redeemed from revenues derived from tolls collected at such bridges; transferring to said Commission all powers now exercised by existing commission created to acquire toll bridges over the Delaware River; and making an appropriation," by providing for the appointment of an engineer by the commission, and for the repayment to the Commonwealth of appropriation herein made.

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for amendment, the vote had on final passage and third reading reconsidered in the Senate and the bill amended, in which amendments the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, page 1, line 2, by inserting after the word "two" the words "article nine"; also on page 2, line 5, by inserting after the word "commission" the following: "authorizing the commission to proceed with the construction of new bridges without the prior authorization of the legislatures of such states if such legislatures or either of them are not in session and providing."

Amend section 1, page 4, line 4, by adding at the end of the line the following:

"ARTICLE IX

"The commission shall make annual reports to the Governors and Legislatures of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey setting forth in detail its operations and transactions and may make such additional reports from time to time to the Governors and Legislatures as it may deem advisable

Whenever the commission after investigation and study shall have concluded plans with estimates of cost and means of financing any new toll bridge across the Delaware River as hereinbefore provided it shall make to the Legislatures of each State at the next sessions thereof a detailed report dealing with the contemplated project [and it shall not be within the power of the commission to construct or erect any such toll bridge until the Legislature of both States have authorized the commission to proceed with the project outlined in its special report] but such project may nevertheless be proceeded with if the Legislatures of said States or either of them are not in session."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

AMENDED SENATE BILL RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented for concurrence bill numbered and entitled as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 987.

An Act relating to unemployment relief making an appropriation to the State Emergency Relief Board for direct relief and work relief prescribing the powers and duties of the board with reference thereto and conferring powers and imposing duties upon certain State departments

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for amendment, the vote had on final passage and third reading reconsidered in the Senate and the bill amended, in which amendments the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, page 1, line 1, by striking out after the word "making" the words "an appropriation" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "appropriations"; also in line 3 by striking out at the beginning of said line the word "and"; also by inserting after the word "relief" the words "and expenses."

HOUSE BILL No. 1676 TAKEN FROM THE TABLE

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1676, Printer's No. 930, which was laid upon the table, be taken from the table.

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. This bill will be returned to the Governor in accordance with the resolution heretofore adopted.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF HOUSE BILL No. 2096

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, May 5, 1933.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed House Bill No. 2096, Printer's No. 1060, entitled "An Act imposing a State tax payable by those herein defined as manufacturers and distributors on certain alcoholic beverages used or sold and delivered within the Commonwealth prescribing the method and manner of evidencing the payment and collection of such tax conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Revenue and those using or engaged in the sale at retail or wholesale of alcoholic beverages taxable hereunder and providing penalties."

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF HOUSE BILL No. 1127

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, May 5, 1933.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed House Bill No. 1127, Printer's No. 903, entitled "An Act declaring and adopting the Mountain Laurel (Kalmia Latifolia) as the State flower of Pennsylvania."

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 1781.

An Act to amend the act approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws, three hundred forty-nine) entitled "An act relating to the finances of the State government; providing for the settlement, assessment, collection, and lien of taxes, bonus, and all other accounts due the Commonwealth, the collection and recovery of fees and other money or property due or belonging, to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, including escheated property and the proceeds of its sale, the custody and disbursement or other disposition of funds and securities belonging to or in the possession of the Commonwealth, and the settlement of claims against the Commonwealth, the resettlement of accounts and appeals to the courts, refunds of moneys erroneously paid to the Commonwealth, auditing the accounts of the Commonwealth and all agencies thereof, of all public officers collecting moneys payable to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof and all receipts of appropriations from the Commonwealth and imposing penalties; affecting every department, board, commission, and officer of the State government, every political subdivision of the State and certain officers of such subdivisions, every person, association, and corporation required to pay, assess, or collect taxes, or to make returns or reports under the laws imposing taxes for State purposes, or to pay license fees or other moneys to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, every State depository and every debtor or creditor of the Commonwealth" as amended, by adding new sections; eliminating the duty of the Department of the Auditor General to audit the affairs of the State Workmen's Insurance Board further defining the lien of the Commonwealth for certain taxes and the powers and duties of the Department of Revenue in the settlement resettlement and collection of certain taxes and in the collection of moneys and property by escheat proceedings further prescribing the contents of certain tax reports further defining the maximum aggregate cash balance which the Treasury Department may at any time have on deposit in active depositories and providing for the reimbursement of the General Fund by the special operating funds for services rendered by the Department of the Auditor General and the Treasury Department.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2355 (Senate Bill No. 1340), entitled:

An Act fixing the fee for the analysis of water by the Department of Health.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I wish to call the attention of the members of the House to this bill, which would set up a system of paying a fee of five dollars for the analysis of water to be made by the State Department of Health.

I want to tell you of an incident we had in our county, where a typhoid epidemic came into the community. Nine people were confined to the hospital of whom three died. Only after the State had examined and found the source of the infection were they able to stop the epidemic.

Many of these people can not pay five dollars for an analysis of the water. I think that since the Department of Health is set up there should be some other means of raising the money than in this way.

I think this bill should be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair advises that there is present in this House a former member of this body. The Chair had the pleasure of serving with the gentleman for several sessions. As a recognition of his ability the people of his county promoted him. I have the honor to present to this body the Senator from Schuylkill, the Honorable Charles Staudenmeier.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not know of any time in the past when I have been so deeply affected as I am on this occasion.

Your Speaker said that I was promoted by the people of Schuylkill County. In my own mind I am not sure up to this point whether or not that was a promotion or a demotion.

I have learned over in the Senate during this session that whenever there is to be a dispute or a real high old time such as we engage in in the House, you go to the party that you have the trouble with and you tell him that you are opposed to his bill. Immediately a recess is called and the differences are ironed out. Now, here's the difference: over here in the House since 1923 you have been right in the maelstrom, you might say, because at that time you had the anthracite coal repealer. You go to some member and say, "Well, I don't like your bill," and he says, "Well, even if you don't like it we are going to put it across." That was the school in which I was raised, and I might say for the benefit of you members here that your present Speaker, Mr. Talbot, and I generally disagreed, but we have remained steadfast friends, and we are going down through the days, if we live that long, steadfast friends.

After all there is a comradeship, a fellowship in this House which makes it different from any body in the world. You have your differences, but when you leave here tonight and go back home, perhaps on Monday, you will look back and feel that being down here in Harrisburg as a member of the House was one of the finest experiences in your life.

I thank you for this opportunity.

The SPEAKER. The Chair, in the name of the House, wishes to thank the Senator from Schuylkill, Mr. Staudenmeier, for his remarks.

The Chair will take only a moment of the time of the House to say that Charley Staudenmeier and myself have clashed many times on the floor of the House. I gave him credit for being the greatest waver of the American flag during the time that the congressional apportionment bill in 1931 was under consideration and when the firemen's relief bill was up for action I gave him credit for dragging more dead bodies down the aisle of this House than anybody I ever knew of before.

STATEMENT BY MR. PHILIP STERLING

Mr. PHILIP STERLING asked for and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this morning the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Nothnagle, acted as if he might have been in his earlier days the presentor at the closing day exercises of a high school.

During the coure of his remarks he stated that Philadelphia county had good reason to be jealous of Delaware county. To that I subscribe at least in one instance and that is in that Delaware county may be proud here of its reputation through our dear friend, 'Ned' Nothnagle.

But, Mr. Speaker, during the occasion of the presentations conducted by Mr. Nothnagle, if I recall it correctly, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Baldi, and the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Peters, were invited to the pit of the House and were each presented with a mechanical horse, upon which sat a rider, and if too I recall it correctly, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Baldi, in acknowledging the gift, that was so appropriately presented to him, referred to the Senate and in that reference, if my recollection is correct, said he thought there were jockies in the Senate or more jockies in the Senate than there were in the House.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I ask whether or not, with the presence of the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Staudenmeier, in the House, it would be proper for me on this occasion to interrogate him?

The SPEAKER. The Chair respects the gentleman from Philadelphia, but is of the opinion that the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Staudenmeier having served but four months in the Senate is not capable of interrogation. However, the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Staudenmeier, may answer for himself. Will he permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I assume that the gentleman from Schuylkill heard that to which I referred, the horse and the rider, and the statement made by the gentleman from Philadelpha, Mr. Baldi, that he felt there were more jockies in the Senate than there were in the House, and the question I would like the gentleman from Schuylkill to answer is this: Does he believe that there are more lightweights in the Senate than there are in the House?

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the question of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, I can only say this: "that it is manifestly impossible for there to be more lightweights in the Senate than there are in the House inasmuch as there are only fifty Senators whereas there are two hundred and eight members in the House.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2378 (Senate Bill No. 1362), entitled:

An Act to amend section fifty-four of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws one thousand two hundred seventy-eight) entitled "An act relating to counties of the second third fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes and revising amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto" permitting individual sureties on the bonds of county officers in counties of the sixth seventh and eighth classes and regulating and controlling the acceptance of such bonds

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2398 (Senate Bill No. 1465), entitled:

An Act to amend sections one and seventeen of the act, approved the seventeenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (P. L. 507), entitled "An act to provide revenue for State and county purposes, and, in cities coextensive with counties, for city and county purposes; imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property; providing for the assessment and collection of the same; providing for the duties and compensation of prothonotaries and recorders in connection therewith; and modifying existing legislation which provided for raising revenue for State purposes," as amended, by exempting interest bearing accounts in any bank or banking institution, savings institution or trust company from taxation under the provisions of said act.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I only want to take a few moments of your time, but I feel it is necessary to do so under the circumstances in connection with this bill.

This bill involves a very vital portion of our legislative program. In principle I am for the bill. As you probably recall, some time ago we passed what was called the Einstein bill, which was Senate Bill No. 302. That repealed the four mills tax on bank deposits in so far as that tax was to be paid by the individual. This bill proposes to repeal the tax insofar as it may be obligatory for the banks to pay it.

I realize that the banks are in a position today where they probably cannot, in a great many instances, pay this tax. But this is the situation.

A few days ago a number of the members of the House and a number of the members of the Senate were in conference in connection with the relief program. The Einstein bill had been put through and signed by the Governor. Therefore, under the legal interpretation of Section No. 17 of the Act of 1913, the banks became liable automatically for the payment of the four mills tax. In this conference it was agreed that we were to raise forty-five million dollars for relief, twenty-five million dollars of which was to come from a bond issue which will be voted upon this fall, ten millions from the beer tax and a probable three million from the Sterling committee economies, and eight million was to be derived from this four mill tax which was automatically on the statute books by virtue of the Einstein bill repealing section one of the Act of 1913.

In that conference it was agreed that we would not proceed to repeal this particular provision of the Act of 1913 until we put something in the place of it to provide for the eight million dollars of the necessary forty-five million dollars for unemployment relief.

Of course the members of the House and the members of the Senate in that conference did not seek to bind the rest of the membership of the Senate and of the House, nor did they speak for the two bodies. Notwithstanding, in order for us to obtain forty-five million dollars from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation it is necessary for this Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to do their share.

At the present time, as I view it, we are confronted with a dilemma. If we pass this particular bill and relieve the banks of the payment of the estimated eight million dollars we will be jeopardizing the whole relief program. If we do not pass this bill and require the banks to pay this tax we will doubtless put a great burden on many small country banks in Pennsylvania. Therefore, we have placed ourselves in a very embassassing position.

It seems to me that we should recognise the seriousness of the position in which we are in so far as this relief program is concerned.

As I said in the beginning, personally I am for this bill, and I am very reluctant to be obliged to vote against it, but, with the passage of this bill and the possible signature of the Governor thereto, the entire relief program which has been built up during this session will become a mere scrap of paper. I am merely stating these facts so that the membership of this House may know the situation as it appeared in that conference at which members of the House attended and at which members of the Senate attended.

The agreement in connection with this matter in that conference was unanimous, and, therefore, it places the members who were in that conference in a likewise embarrasing position, to be obliged to come here today and vote against this bill.

I say in all seriousness that we should pass this bill, but we should not pass it until we have provided something to take its place and provide the eight million dollars which it provided for, otherwise we will have a collapse of the whole relief program.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have no doubt in my own mind that when the work of the Appropriations Committee is completed in this session that they will have provided in their program from sufficient money to take care of the unemployed relief program as outlined.

The difficulty with this act, or the difficulty with the failure to pass this act is this; the bill itself levies no tax upon the banks but by the failure to pass this act it would leave the law stand and leave the tax upon the banks, and it is confidently expected by everyone that the banks, in order to take care of it, would be compelled to pass it on the depositors, either directly or indirectly, or by a reduction of the interest that they pay on savings deposits in their bank. That means that thousands of small depositors in Pennsylvania who have money in savings accounts and who want the interest that comes to them, would be penalized by the failure to pass this act. Therefore, it would be placing a new tax upon the people of Pennsylvania.

It is true that there did exist before the Einstein Act was passed a provision that taxed these accounts in the banks of Pennsylvania. It is true that we thought that we were taking off that tax, and that was the purpose of the Legislature as clearly expressed, and it was only from the opinion of the Attorney General that the Governor said to place that tax back on the banks of Pennsylvania. Therefore, it seems to me, that the clear intent of the Legislature having once been expressed, that they wanted to take off this tax and it being clearly the intent and purpose of the Legislature, it is unfair to take advantage of a technicality and seek to place that tax back. That would not be so bad if it were not for the fact that if we fail to pass this that under the ruling of the Attorney General, if it be upheld, and this tax is placed on the banks of Pennsylvania, that it would have to be paid ultimately by the banks or someone that might not have too much money and it would ultimately be paid by the small depositor.

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I regret to disagree with my very good friend, Mr. Rhodes, on this measure. I think it has a very far reaching effect, an effect that has not been brought out up to this time. Just recently the clearing house association in my county went on record saying that in the event the Einstein bill prevailed and the tax was placed on the banks, that they would be compelled to reduce their rates to depositors. Let us follow this a little bit further. Suppose the banks do reduce interest to depositors, the natural sequence will be that a great number of the depositors, as before stated, will withdraw their deposits from the banks.

Let us follow this still further. The ultimate result will be that the banks will have to call on their borrowers and recall the mortgages which they hold. It may have many serious and far-reaching effects. It may compel the banks to call in their loans from borrowers who borrowed for the furtherance of their business and furtherance of their manufacturing industries, and at this time when business affairs are on the upturn and when factories are again getting into operation it would have a very serious effect if a large number of loans were called by the banks from manufacturers and on mortgages. I fear we may bring more disastrous results by voting no on this measure than by passing it.

Some time ago the Federal Government increased the rates on postage. The result was not more revenue but less revenue and I am inclined to think if we don't pass this measure that the result will be the withdrawing of large amounts of money by depositors and the revenue produced will in no way reach the amount contemplated by the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Rhodes. Under the circumstances I shall be compelled to vote aye on this measure.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

REASON FOR VOTE

Mr. WITKIN filed the following reasons for his vote on House Bill No. 1465.

The remarks of the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Rhodes, are correct and I was one of the conferrees who formed part of the agreement with His Excellency the Governor.

I regret to have to vote no to repeal this tax that I believe to be a bad one.

It was a law when the agreement was made.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2386 (Senate Bill No. 1341), entitled:

An Act to amend section seven of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (P. L. 465), entitled "An act to provide for the safety of persons employed, housed or assembled in certain buildings and structures not in cities of the first class, second class and second class A, by requiring certain construction and ways of egress, equipment and maintenance; providing for the licensing of projectionists, requiring the submission of plans for examination and approval; providing for the promulgation of rules and regulations for the enforcement of this act; providing for the enforcement of this act by the Department of Labor and Industry and in certain cases by the chiefs of fire departments in cities of the third class; providing penalties, for violations of the provisions of this act and repealing certain acts," by providing for fees for licensing of projectionists.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 789, Senate Bill No. 173, Printer's No. 42, on page 15 of today's calendar bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Turner,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 789 (Senate Bill No. 173), entitled:

An Act to amend section six of the act approved the thirty-first day of March, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six (P. L. 13), entitled "An act to carry into effect section five, of article fourteen, of the Constitution, relative to the salaries of county officers and the payment of fees received by them into the State or county treasury, in counties containing over one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants," by providing for the payment in full of salaries of county officers out of the fees earned before payment of salaries of deputies, clerks or assistants.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think at this late hour of the Assembly that it is hardly fair for us to pass a bill that is contrary to the best economy. If you will read this bill you will find that in certain counties deputies are to be paid after county officers elected to that office have received their salary. Under the present law the office must earn the monies necessary to pay the deputies, and when the office earns over and above that amount it is then turned over to the elective officer of that office. This bill attempts to change that order. It attempts first to pay the sheriff or the officer holding that office and then what is left will be paid to the deputy. If there is not sufficient money earned in the office then naturally the deputies will be forced to call upon the general fund to pay their salaries. You can readily see that this will give an opportunity for further extending the number of deputies employed in the office with the result that it will drain the general fund of the county to the detriment of the taxpayers. I ask your earnest consideration and that you vote this bill down.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. RICE. Mr. Speaker, I move you that this bill be rereferred to the Committee on Judiciary General for the purpose of further study.

The motion was agreed to.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. It will probably take twenty minutes to clear the table after which we will take a short recess. It is necessary, however, that the members be here at expiration of the recess. The printers are now working on the committee report on House Bill No. 260, which is the general appropriation bill, and we must have a quorum when that conference committee report is called up.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. SURFACE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 376, Printer's No. 896, on page 17 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Surface,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 376, entitled:

An Act to amend sections five hundred and one, and section seven hundred and two as reenacted, of the act, approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 905), entitled, "An act for the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of highways and the operation of vehicles, tractors, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens, encumbrances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of the peace, the courts and clerks thereof, owners of vehicles, and garage keepers; providing that records are admissable as evidence; imposing upon the owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forfeitures, fees, and miscellaneous receipts; making an appropriation and providing for refunds," requiring the payment of extra fees for the assignment and issuance of particular registration plates.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SURFACE. I would like to call the attention of the members of the House to the fact that this bill is one of the few for the purpose of raising funds that does not impose some kind of a tax or license fees. I have read this over very carefully. It simply provides that if somebody takes a fancy to some particular license number or letter or combination of letters and numbers that he wants on his license plates for his automobile he can obtain it by applying to the license bureau and paying two and a half dollars for it. It would cost two dollars and a half and would give some income from that source. That is not objectionable and I therefore recommend its passage.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Snyder, Mr. Surface, understand that we do not have sufficient liegislative days to enact this bill into law.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be rereferred to the Judiciary General Committee for the purpose of further study.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, May 5, 1933

Whereas, the Commonwealth has recently received in payment of the transfer inheritance tax due by the estate of John T. Dorrance funds in excess of fourteen million dollars, and

Whereas, such funds have been paid and additional moneys due to the Commonwealth and Delaware County will be paid only as a result of successful litigation conducted for the Commonwealth in its courts and in the Supreme Court of the United States, and

Whereas, such litigation has involved legal questions of great complexity and importance and has required professional skill of the highest character, and

Whereas, from the inception of such litigation, commenced in the courts of Delaware County and carried throughout its difficult and protracted course to the highest courts of this Commonwealth and of the nation, the Attorney General inspired, prepared, directed and led the Commonwealth's fight and

Whereas, we are not unmindful that while other able legal counsel employed in such litigation have been properly compensated for their services in proportion to the importance of the litigation and the principles and property involved therein, the Attorney General has perforce received no renumeration or compensation above and beyond his salary fixed by statute, although it was his client that prevailed and he that achieved the victory.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Senate and House of Representatives in the name of the people of Pennsylvania hereby extend their hearty congratulations to Honorable William A. Schnader, Attorney General, on his successful termination of the litigation necessary to the collection of the transfer inheritance tax due by the estate of John T. Dorrance and hereby express their deep appreciation and gratitude for his untiring labor in preparing and presenting the Commonwealth's cause that it might be won, for his patience and wisdom as a counselor, for his faith and courage as a leader, and for his devotion to duty as the chief law officer of the Commonwealth.

Be it further resolved, That a copy of this resolution be suitably engrossed and presented to the Attorney General.

Resolved that this resolution shall be effective immediately upon its approval by the Governor.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, April 26, 1933.

Whereas, Answers to letters forwarded to the press of the Commonwealth have revealed that in the administration of relief to the unemployed in the Commonwealth there is lacking a comprehensive social service including proper investigation of relief applicants and a workable work-relief program and provisions for rehabilitation, and that a very serious grievance in the administration of such relief is the lack of proper co-ordination of flour, medical, milk and shelter relief with food; and

Whereas, In every county of the Commonwealth, many are receiving relief who are not entitled to the same, because they are congenitally disinclined to work, have sufficient funds or incomes to sustain themselves without relief, or could well get along without relief, and that in addition thereto, there are many who, by reason of pride, abstained from asking for relief; and

Whereas, An investigating committee clothed with proper powers of investigation, including the right to pry into other sources of income or resources of those applying for relief, would result in the saving to the Commonwealth of much money now needlessly used for this purpose, thereby allowing more funds for the granting of adequate relief to those in actual need; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That a committee of seven, four of whom shall be appointed by the Speaker of the House and three by the President pro tempore of the Senate for the purpose of investigating:

(1) The needs for relief throughout the Commonwealth;

(2) The methods of administration; and

(3) The number of cases where relief is being given unjustifiably; and be it

Resolved, That said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman, requiring and commanding any person to appear before it and answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the same force and effect as subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of the committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before it. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to appear and testify for said committee, or to produce any books, papers, records and documents, shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of this Commonwealth in such cases; and be it further

Resolved, That the members of said committee shall receive no compensation for their services, but shall be reimbursed for expenses actually incurred in the performance of their duties, to be paid out of an item to be inserted in the General Appropriation Bill.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1933.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 1676, Printer's No. 930, entitled "An Act to further amend paragraph (b) of Section nine of the act approved the fifteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred nine) entitled 'An act relating to the organization maintenance and operation of the Department of Banking and the scope of its supervision and control over corporations partnerships unincorporated associations and individuals and the assets and liabilities thereof providing penalties for the enforcement of its provisions and repealing the Banking Department Act of nineteen hundred and ninetee with table of contets' by rquiring building and loan associatios to pay the full cost of examinations by the Department of Banking," be returned to the Governor without amendment.

SENATE MESSAGE

CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 85.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 1, 1933.

Whereas As a result of federal economy legislation plans for the construction of the new naval hospital at Philadelphia have been discontinued and

Whereas The pressing necessity for such an institution in the proposed location has been and is well recognized and

Whereas Abandonment or delay in the proposed construction must result in suffering among the nation's servants who are entitled to the nation's care therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully presents to His Excellency the President of the United States that in the opinion of said General Assembly no plan or program be it economy or otherwise should be permitted to interfere with the immediate carrying out of so worthy and necessary a project and be it further

Resolved That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by proper authority to the President of the United States

SENATE MESSAGE

CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 43

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 13, 1933.

Whereas The Federal Congress in the proposed appropriation bill has withdrawn vast sums of money which was heretofore authorized and expended for the hospitalization and maintenance of disabled and partially disabled veterans and

Whereas Many thousand disabled and partially disabled veterans who have been receiving such aid are citizens and residents of this Commonwealth and

Whereas The withdrawal or curtailment of Federal maintenance to disabled or partially disabled Pennsylvania veterans will result in an added financial burden on this Commonwealth not heretofore considered therefor be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That a Joint Legislative Committee to consist of two members of the Senate to be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate and three members of the House to be appointed by the Speaker of the House is hereby created whose duty it shall be to inquire into investigate and compile data concerning the number of disabled or partially disabled veterans in this Commonwealth effected by such Federal action and the amounts of money involved and to report as soon as possible to both Houses in order that the additional duty so imposed on this Commonwealth may be assumed by proper legislation

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented for concurrence bill numbered and entitled as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 102.

An Act authorizing county treasurers to make, execute, acknowledge and deliver deeds of seated lands sold by them for delinquent taxes under the provisions of an act of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, approved the ninth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1684), entitled "An act authorizing and empowering the county treasurers of the several counties of this Commonwealth to sell at public sale all seated lands upon which taxes assessed on such seated lands by authority of any county, borough, town, township, school district and poor district are delinquent and remain unpaid, and fixing penalties for such delinquency; authorizing county commissioners to purchase such lands under certain circumstances;" prior to its repeal, notwithstanding that said deeds were not made, issued, acknowledged or delivered and surplus bond not given prior to said repeal; and authorizing the making, execution, acknowledgment and delivery of said deeds by said county treasurers after the expiration of term of office or by their successors in office; and confirming the title to lands so sold where the deeds have been made, executed and delivered and the surplus bonds filed since the repeal of said act, and whether the said deeds were made, executed or delivered by the county treasurer who made said sale during the term of his office or after its expiration, or by his successor in office.

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for amendment, the vote had on final passage and third reading reconsidered in the Senate and the bill amended, in which amendments the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

B When any real property of an institution of which the Secretary is in possession as receiver is situated in a county other than the one in which the institution is located the Secretary shall proceed in the same manner as is provided by this section for the sale of real property within the county In addition he shall petition the court of common pleas of the county in which the real property is located and it shall be the duty of such court to issue an order authorizing the sale upon the terms or conditions prescribed by the order of the court having jurisdiction of the receivership The Secretary shall file a return of the sale in the court of common pleas in the county in which the real estate is located which court if all the terms and conditions of the order of the court in which the certificate of possession is filed have been met shall confirm the sale and shall give the Secretary a certified copy of the return of the sale and a certified copy of the confirmation thereof Such certified copies shall be filed with the prothonotary of the court in which the certificate of possession is filed

Section 719 Effect of Sale upon Liens A The sale by the Secretary of any real property of an institution of which he is in possession as receiver shall not affect any lien thereon except that in the case of a lien which would under the laws of the Commonwealth ordinarily be discharged by a judicial sale the court in its order authorizing the sale may prescribe that such lien shall be discharged by the sale Whenever such liens are to be discharged by a sale the Secretary shall give notice of the sale to all creditors who appear by the books of the institution or by the records of the county or otherwise to have or to claim to have such liens upon such property the proceeds of the sale shall then take the place of the property sold and shall be distributed in the order prescribed by and to the parties entitled to take under the laws of the Commonwealth which relate to the discharge of liens by a judicial sale

B If real property is situated in a county other than that in which the institution is located the court in which the certificate of possession is filed shall be the one empowered to issue the original order prescribing the discharge of liens The procedure shall be the same as in the case of any other terms or conditions prescribed in its order for the sale of real property situated in another county

Section 720 Leases for Property The Secretary may without leave of court enter into leases for real or personal property belonging to the institution of which he is in possession as receiver for a period not to exceed one year He may with leave of court enter into such leases for a period not to exceed ten years upon the terms and under the conditions prescribed by the order of the court

The court shall not require advertisement or notice of leases entered into upon its order except where special circumstances shall appear to require such action in order to protect the interests of the estate

Section 721 Sale or Exchange of Personal Property Listed and Unlisted Securities A The Secretary may without leave of court sell on any stock exchange or otherwise at such times and in such manner as he shall deem to be to the best interests of the estate listed or unlisted securities which belong to the institution of which he is in possession as receiver or which such institution has the power to sell

B The Secretary may without leave of court exchange listed or unlisted securities for other securities of the corporation issuing the securities or of a corporation which has merged or consolidated with or has taken over such corporation

C The Secretary may without leave of court sell any mortgage or other lien upon real property or any judgment at such times and in such manner as he shall deem to the best interests of the estate

D Except as otherwise specifically provided by this act the Secretary may without leave of court sell (1) at public sale or (2) at private sale for a net consideration not below the amount at which such personal property has been valued in the appraisement required by this act any personal property which belongs to the institution of which he is in possession as receiver or which such institution has the power to sell He may with leave of court sell such personal property at private sale upon such terms and under such conditions as the court shall prescribe

Section 722 Deposit of Moneys by Secretary All moneys received by the Secretary as receiver of an institution shall be deposited by him with one or more corporations or persons authorized by law to receive deposits and subject to the supervision either of Federal or State banking authorities He shall require of such depository security therefor in such amount and of such nature as the Secretary shall deem adequate

Section 723 Enforcement of Shareholders' Liability A If at any time after he takes possession of a corporation as receiver it shall appear to the Secretary that the assets of such corporation will be insufficient to pay in full its debts to depositors and other creditors he shall as soon as expedient estimate the amount which shall be assessed against all shareholders who are under these circumstances personally liable for any part of the debts of such corporation by reason of their ownership of such shares He shall assess against such shareholders the amount which he then deems necessary for the payment of such debts not however exceeding the maximum liability of such shareholders as provided by law The Secretary shall send to every such shareholder by registered mail to the address which appears on the records of the corporation or if none appears there then to his last known address a demand that the amount assessed against him be paid Such demand shall state the total amount assessed by the Secretary against all the shareholders and the specific amount to be paid by the particular shareholder It shall also designate a period within such assessment shall be paid such period to be not less than thirty days after the date of the sending of the notice If any shareholders shall not pay the amount assessed against them the Secretary may institute actions at law or in equity against them either severally or jointly for the amount of such assessment together with interest from the date designated in the notice from the Secretary for the payment of such assessment In such action the written statement of the Secretary signed by him in his official capacity as receiver and bearing the seal of the Department asserting that the assets of the corporation appear insufficient to meet its liabilities to depositors and other creditors that consequently he has made an assessment against the shareholder or shareholders being sued that the period designated for the payment of the assessment has expired and that the value of the assets of the corporation and the liabilities of such corporations are as set forth shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated

B The Secretary may make as many partial assessments as shall appear expedient until the total liability of the shareholders or the total amount necessary to pay in full the depositors and other creditors of the corporation has been assessed

Section 724 Property in Safe Deposit Vault or Held for Safe-Keeping The Secretary may any time after taking possesison of an institution as receiver give written notice to anyone claiming or appearing on the books of such institution to be the owner or to be entitled to the possession of any personal property left with such institution as bailee for safe-keeping or depository for hire and to anyone appearing on the books of the institution to be the lessee of any safe vault deposit box notifying such bailor or lessee respectively to remove all such personal property within the period fixed by the notice provided that such period shall in no case be less than sixty days after the date of the notice

At the expiration of such period if the lessee of a safe vault or safe deposit box has not removed the contents thereof the Secretary may cause such safe vault or safe deposit box to be opened either in his presence or in the presence of the deputy receiver of the institution and in the presence of a notary public not an officer or employe of the institution or of the Department The contents if any of such safe vault or safe deposit box shall then be sealed and marked by such notary with the name and address of the lessee in whose name such safe vault or safe deposit box appeared on the books of the institution and with a list and description of the property therein The Secretary shall take such action as he shall deem desirable to safeguard such property until it is delivered to the owner or is otherwise disposed of in accordance with law

The Secretary shall follow the same procedure and have the same powers with regard to the property left with the institution as bailee for safe-keeping or depository for hire and not called for within the period specified by the notice

The contract of bailment or lease if any shall be considered at an end upon the date designated by the Secretary for the removal of the property therein The amount of unearned rent or charges if any paid by the bailor or lessee shall become a debt of the institution

ARTICLE VIII

SECRETARY IN POSSESSION OF TRUST DEPARTMENT

Section 801 Institution as Fiduciary References in this act to funds property or investments held in a fiduciary capacity by an institution of which the Secretary has taken possession shall apply only to funds property or investments held in such fiduciary capacity by the trust department of such institution and shall not apply to funds property or investments which were held by the commercial department of such institution

Section 802 Secretary in Possession of Trust Department A The Secretary upon taking possession of an institution as receiver shall keep all the funds property and investments if any which are held by such institution in a fiduciary capacity separate from the assets of the institution itself

B The Secretary when in possession of an institution as receiver shall have all the rights powers and duties which such institution had in its fiduciary capacity He shall have title to all the assets including debts due liens and other security therefor and all rights of action or redemption of all estates of which the institution either alone or jointly with someone else was trustee executor administrator guardian assignee or other similar fiduciary and shall have the power to administer such estates In pursuance of this power the Secretary may institute any action at law or in equity or execute and sign any written instruments which the institution itself could have instituted executed or signed

The Secretary shall not however have the power to invest funds or property of any such estate except where it shall appear necessary to purchase any real or personal property or any interest therein in order to protect an equity which such estate has in such property Such purchase by the Secretary shall not however be made without the approval of any corporation or person whose approval would have been necessary to such purchase by the institution prior to the taking of possession by the Secretary and of the court which has exercised jurisdiction over such estate If no court has yet exercised jurisdiction over the estate then the approval either of the court of common pleas or of the orphan's court of the county in which the place of business of the institution is situated shall be procured

Except where otherwise specifically provided references in this act to the court which has exercised jurisdiction over an estate of which an institution in possession of the Secretary was fiduciary shall be construed to refer in cases in which the institution was executor or administrator to the orphans' court of the county of which the register of wills issued the letters testamentary or letters of administration respectively and in all other cases to the court of common pleas or the orphans' court in which an account of the estate has been filed or which has in any manner exercised control or supervision over the administration of such estate by the institution as fiduciary

Section 803 Disputes as to Identity of Trust Funds All disputes as to the identity of the funds property or investments of an estate of which an institution in the possession of the Secretary was fiduciary arising either because such funds property or investments have become or are alleged to have become mingled with other funds property or investments or for any other reason shall be determined by the court in which the certificate of possession is filed Such court shall have exclusive jurisidiction over such disputes

Section 804 Appointment of Substituted Fiduciaries Upon filing a supplement to the certificate of possession setting forth his determination to liquidate the affairs of the institution the Secretary shall forthwith give written notice in so far as the giving of such notice is practicable to all parties of whom he has notice who are interested in any funds property or investments held by such institution in a fiduciary capacity Such notice shall require such parties within thirty days after the giving of notice to apply for the appointment of substituted fiduciaries Such application shall be made as follows In any case in which the institution was executor or administrator application shall be made to the register of wills naving jurisdiction to grant new letters in such form as the case shall require in any other case application shall be made to any court which has exercised jurisdiction over the estate or if no court has exercised such jurisdiction then to the court of common pleas or the orphans' court of the county in which the institution has its place of business However if the instrument under which the fiduciary relationship was established provides a particular method for the selection of fiduciaries such method shall be followed

If the parties to whom such notice has been given do not within the thirty-day period designated make such application or pursue whatever method is prescribed by the instrument under which the fiduciary relationship was established for the appointment of a substituted fiduciary or if it is impracticable to give notice to the parties interested in the estate then he Secretary shall make the application for the appointment of a substituted fiduciary to the court or the register of wills whichever the case may be designated above Such court or register of wills shall appoint a substituted fiduciary upon such petition of the Secretary

Section 805 Transfer of Assets to Substituted Fiduciary without Filing Account If a substituted fiduciary has been appointed in accordance with the provisions of this act and if there is no dispute as to the amount or identity of the funds property or investments of the particular estate and as to the fees commissions and expenses due either to the institution before the Secretary took possession or to the Secretary as receiver since the taking of possession and if all the parties in interest being sui juris agree in writing to waive an accounting in court the Secretary in possession of an institution as receiver may transfer to such substituted fiduciary all the funds property and investments of the particular estate without filing an account in any court Upon such transfer he shall procure from all the parties in interest and from the substituted fiduciary a receipt and release in full which shall discharge the Secretary and the institution from any further duty or liability with reference to such estate

Section 806 Filing of Account Transfer of Assets to Substituted Fiduciary A Except in cases in which the Secretary is authorized by the provisions of this act to transfer to a substituted fiduciary without filing an account the funds property or investments of an estate of which the institution was fiduciary he shall file an account for every estate of which such institution was fiduciary The Secretary shall file each such account upon the date fixed by the instrument creating the fiduciary relationship or if there is no such date fixed then as soon as expedient after the filing of a supplement to the certificate of possession setting forth his determination to liquidate the affairs of the institution Such account shall be filed in the court which has exercised jurisdiction over the particular estate or if no court has yet exercised jurisdiction then in the court of common pleas or the orphans' court of the county in which the place of business of the institution is situated The Secretary shall then transfer or pay to the substituted fiduciary appointed pursuant to the provisions of this act any funds property or investments in his possession which belong to such estate Such transfer or payment shall be made in accordance with the order of the court in which the account for such estate is filed The court in directing such transfer or payment may reserve for future determination any question of surcharge

B The court which has exercised jurisdiction over a particular estate of which the institution was fiduciary or if no court has exercised such jurisdiction then the court of common pleas or the orphans' court of the county in which the institution has its place of business may order the Secretary to transfer the funds property or investments of the estate to the substituted fiduciary even prior to the filing of an account The court in such order may reserve for future determination any question of surcharge or any other question which may arise upon the audit of the account

C This section shall not be construed to give any court other than the one in which the certificate of possession is filed jurisdiction over disputes involving the identity of funds property or investments of an estate of which the institution was fiduciary

Section 807 Deficiencies in Assets Held by Institution as Fiduciary Whenever the court in which the Secretry has filed the account of an estate of which an institution in his possession was fiduciary shall in the manner provided by law rule that there is a deficiency in the funds property or investments of such estate or that the institution is liable to surcharge in respect thereto the amount determined by such court to be due shall constitute a claim against the institution and shall be presented in the same manner as other claims except that it may be presented at any time within six months after the appointment of a substituted fiduciary of the estate and the adjudication of the account of such estate by the competent court Such order or decree of such court shall be conclusive as to the amount due except for the right of appeal provided by law Any dispute as to the classification or order of payment of such claim as distinguished from the amount shall be adjudicated by the court in which the certificate of possession is filed

If the existence or amount of any such deficiency or surcharge or the liability of the institution therefor is in litigation but undetermined at the time dividends for claims having no priority in order of payment over such claims are being distributed the Secretary shall upon notice of such fact from the substituted fiduciary withhold and set apart a sufficient amount to pay the proportionate dividend which will be due upon such undetermined claim if it is finally adjudicated in favor of the estate of which the institution was fiduciary

Section 808 Compensation Due Institution and Secretary from Estates The Secretary in possession of an institution as receiver shall be entitled to collect such reasonable fees and commisions as were earned both as to income and as to principal and such reasonable expenses as were incurred by the institution in its capacity as fiduciary prior to the date on which possession was taken by the Secretary He shall also be entitled to reasonable fees and commissions both as to income and as to principal for any services performed and all reasonable expenses incurred by him on behalf of any estate of which the institution was fiduciary The Secretary shall be entitled to such commissions on principal as shall appear reasonable under all the circumstances whether or not the trust has terminated at the time of the filing of the account or of the transfer by the Secretary of the funds property and investments of the estate in accordance with the provisions of the instrument creating the fiduciary relationship All sums received by the Secretary under this section shall become assets of the institution of which he is in possession as receiver

Except in cases where the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of this act transfers funds property or investments of the estate without filing an account the court in which the Secretary shall file the account for the estate of which the institution was fiduciary shall award to the Secretary the fees commissions and expenses provided for in this section

SECRETARY IN POSSESSION OF A MORTGAGE OR SECURITY POOL OR OF AN ASSET IN WHICH UNDIVIDED INTERESTS ARE HELD

Section 901 Mortgage and Security Pools and Participations Accounts Whenever the Secretary shall have filed a supplement to the certificate of possession setting forth his determination to liquidate the affairs of an institution of which he is in possession as receiver he shall as soon as it may be convenient file in the court in which the certificate of possession shall have been filed an account as to any mortgages securities or other assets comprising any mortgage or securities pool operated by such institution or as to any mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests shall have been created by the institution regardless of whether certificates of participation in such mortgage or securities pool or in such mortgage security or other asset shall have been actually issued by the institution and regardless of whether the relation of the institution to the owners of the undivided interests in such mortgage or securities pool or in any such mortgage security or other asset is technically that of a trustee

A mortgage or securities pool shall be regarded as having been operated by the institution regardless of whether any or all of the mortgages securities or other assets in such pool shall be held in the name of the institution or in the name of a nominee of the institution Where undivided interests have been created in any mortgage security or other asset by any corporation or person holding such mortgage security or other asset as nominee of the institution such undivided interests shall be regarded as having been created by the institution

The prothonotary shall not be under any duty to recopy or otherwise record any such account filed by the Secretary He shall make no charge except the regular fee for filing such or similar papers

Section 902 Transfer of Pools and Participations without Filing an Account If all the corporations or persons who are the owners of all the undivided interests in any mortgage or securities pool or in any mortgage security or other asset in which the institution shall have created undivided interests are sui juris and if they shall agree to the amount asserted by the Secretary to be due him as receiver for services rendered by the institution or by him and for expenses incurred by either and if they shall authorize the Secretary to transfer any such mortgage or securities pool or any such mortgage security or other asset to them or to a substituted fiduciary or any other corporation or person agreed upon by them and if they shall execute proper instruments releasing the Secretary and the institution from any further liability to them the Secretary may transfer to such substituted fiduciary or to such corporation or person without filing an account all the mortgages securities or other assets comprising such mortgage or securities pool or the mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests have been created In any case where the institution as fiduciary of an estate is the owner on behalf of such estate of any undivided interest in any such mortgage or securities pool or in any such mortgage security or other asset and no substituted fiduciary has been appointed for such estate the Secretary shall not transfer such mortgage or securities pool or such mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests were created by the institution unless he shall also be authorized to make such transfer by all corporations or persons having an interest in the estate of which the institution was fiduciary except that where substituted fiduciaries have not been appointed for unborn beneficiaries of the estate or for other beneficiaries who are not sui juris the Secretary shall not be required to obtain such authority from anyone in behalf of such unborn beneficiaries or other persons who are not sui juris

Section 903 Notice of Filing Account A Upon filing an account as to any mortgages securities or other assets comprising any mortgage or securities pool operated by an institution of which he is in possession as receiver or as to any mortgage security or other asset in which the institution shall have created undivided interests the Secretary shall give notice thereof in so far as it may be practicable to all corporations or persons who are the owners of the undivided interests in any such mortgage or securities pool or in any such mortgage security or other asset and in any case where the institution as fiduciary of an estate is the owner on behalf of such estate of any such undivided interest then to all corporations or persons having an interest in such estate except that no such notice need be given to anyone on behalf of unborn beneficiaries who are not sui juris where no substituted fiduciary has been appointed for such beneficiaries Such notice shall be given to the corporations or persons entitled thereto under this section at their addresses as they appear on the books or other records of the institution or if the address of any such corporation or person does not appear thereon then at the last known address of such corporation or person

B Such notice shall state the time and place of the audit of such account and except where an application for a substituted fiduciary shall have been made by any other method authorized by this act it shall also state the intention of the Secretary to apply for a substituted fiduciary for such mortgage or securities pool or for such mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests were created by the institution and the time and place of any hearing upon such application which may be fixed by the court

Section 904 Appointment of Substituted Fiduciary Transfer of Pools or Participations upon Order of Court A After the filing by the Secretary of a supplement to the certificate of possession setting forth his determination to liquidate the business and property of an institution but either before or after the filing of an account by him as to any mortgages securities or other assets comprising any mortgage or securities pool operated by such institution or as to any mortgage security or other assets in which the institution shall have created undivided interests the owner of any undivided interest in such mortgage or securities pool or in such mortgage security or other asset may file in the court in which the certificate of possession is filed a petition for the appointment of a substituted fiduciary for such mortgage or securities pool or for such mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests were created

If such petition shall not have been filed by the owner of any such undivided interest within thirty days after the notice by the Secretary of the filing of an account as to such mortgage or security pool or as to such mortgage security or other asset the Secretary shall file in the court in which the certificate of possession is filed a petition for the appointment of a substituted fiduciary for such mortgage or securities pool or for any such mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests were created by the institution

Upon the filing of such a petition by the owner of any such undivided interest or by the Secretary for such mortgage or security pool or for such mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests were created by the institution the court shall upon a day fixed by it conduct a hearing upon such application after which it shall appoint a substituted fiduciary

B The Secretary shall transfer to the substituted fiduciary appointed by the court all such mortgages securities or other assets comprising any such mortgage or securities pool or any such mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests were created as are in his possession as receiver and as to which he shall have filed an account The substituted fiduciary shall take such mortgages securities or other assets without liability for the nature or value of the mortgages securities or other assets as investments Such transfer shall be made in accordance with the order of the court and in directing such transfer the court may reserve for future determination any question of surcharge against the institution or the Secretary

The court may after petition filed pursuant to the provisions of this section order the Secretary to make such transfer even prior to filing an account in which case it may also reserve for future determination any question which may arise upon the audit of the account

Section 905 Advances by Secretary to Substituted Fiduciary Whenever the Secretary shall have filed an account as to any such mortgage or securities pool or as to any mortgage security or other asset in which the institution shall have created undivided interests and it shall appear to the court that any sum of cash will be needed by the substituted fiduciary for the protection of the owners of undivided interests in such mortgage or securities pools or in any such mortgage security or other asset as to which account shall have been filed and if it shall appear from the account that the Secretary does not have any cash held by him in connection with such mortgages or securities pool or in connection with any such mortgage security or other asset or if the account discloses that the cash in his hands for that purpose is sufficient for the protection of the owners of the undivided interests in such mortgage or securities pool or any such mortgage or security or other asset or where no account is filed if the Secretary shall demonstrate these facts to the satisfaction of the court the court may upon petition of the Secretary and in the exercise of its discretion order the Secretary to advance to the substituted fiduciary out of the general assets of the institution such cash as may be necessary for the protection of the owners of such undivided interest such order shall provide that the amount of cash so advanced by the Secretary shall be repaid by the substituted fiduciary out of the first moneys realized by such substituted fiduciary on the mortgages securities and other assets transferred to him

Section 906 Compensation and Expenses The court in its adjudication of any account filed by the Secretary as to any mortgage or securities pool operated by an institution of which the Secretary is in possession as receiver or as to any mortgage security or other asset in which the institution shall have created undivided interests shall award to the Secretary such compensation for services rendered and expenses properly incurred by the institution or by the Secretary as the court shall deem reasonable and proper under all the circumstances The order of the court making any such award to the Secretary shall provide for the payment of such compensation or expenses out of any cash included in the account or if there be no cash in the account or if the amount of cash included therein is insufficient to pay the amount awarded to the Secretary the order shall provide for the payment of such compensation or expenses out of the first moneys realized by the substituted fiduciary on the mortgages securities or other assets so transferred to such substituted fiduciary All sums received by the Secretary under this section shall become assets of the institution of which he is in possession as receiver

When the court shall pursuant to the provisions of this act order the Secretary to transfer such mortgages securities or other assets prior to the filing of an account it shall similarly make provision for the payment of the compensation earned or the expenses incurred by the institution or by the Secretary

ARTICLE X

PROOF OF CLAIMS ACCOUNTING AND DISTRIBUTION

Section 1001 Notice to Depositors Shareholders and Other Creditors After filing a supplement to the certificate of possession setting forth his determination to liquidate the affairs of an institution of which he has taken possession as receiver the Secretary shall forthwith give notice of such fact to all corporations or persons who appear upon the books of the institution as or who are otherwise known to the Secretary to be or claim to be depositors or other creditors and in the case of a building and loan association shareholders of such institution He shall likewise give notice to any corporation or person who pursuant to the provisions of this act has given the Secretary notice of his claim to the right of execution or attachment against any assets owned by or legally in the custody or possession of the Secretary as receiver of the institution

The notice to each depositor or in the case of a building and loan association to each shareholder shall state the amount which the books or other records of the institution show to be due to such depositor or shareholder It shall also state that unless such depositor or shareholder shall within a specified time present to the Secretary for settlement his deposit or pass book or other evidence of his account showing a different amount to be due or unless such depositor or shareholder shall within a specified time from the date of such notice prove in the manner provided by this act that a different amount is due the amount shown to be due by the books of the institution will be conclusively presumed to be correct unless the court pursuant to the provisions of this act grants him an extension of time

The notice to each creditor other than a depositor or in the case of a building and loan association other than a shareholder shall inform such creditor that he must present his claim in the manner provided by this act within a specified time from the date of such notice or else be permanently barred from sharing in any distribution of the assets of the institution unless the court pursuant to the provisions of this act grants him an extension of time

The Secretary shall also advertise in a newspaper or newspapers as provided in this act the fact that he has determined to liquidate the affairs of the institution and that he has filed an inventory and appraisement in the office of the prothonotary Such advertisement shall state that all depositors or in the case of building and loan associations all shareholders must prove their claims within a specified period or be bound by the amount shown by the books or records of the institution to be due them and that any corporation or person not appearing upon the books of the institution to be a depositor or in the case of a building and loan association a shareholder and not presenting his pass book or other evidence of the state of his account or otherwise presenting his claim will be permanently barred from sharing in any distribution of the assets of the institution unless the court pursuant to the provisions of this act grants him an extension of time It shall also state that all creditors other than depositors or in the case of building and loan associations other than shareholders not proving their claims in the manner provided by this act and within a specified perior will likewise be permanently barred from sharing in any distribution of the assets of the institution except where the court pursuant to the provisions of this act grants to a creditor an extension of time

The Secretary shall specify as the last day upon which depositors creditors and in the case of a building and loan association shareholders can present their claims a date not less than one hundred twenty days after the taking of possession of the institution by him as receiver provided that such date shall be at least thirty days after the date of the sending of such notice However claims based upon deficiencies in or surcharges with respect to funds property or investments which such institution held in a fiduciary capacity may be presented at any time within six months after the appointment of a substituted fiduciary of the estate of which such funds property or investments were a part and the adjudication of the account of such estate by the competent court

Section 1002 Proof of Claims of Depositors or in Building and Loan Associations Shareholders Any depositor or in the case of a building and loan association any shareholder who disagrees with the amount shown by the books or other records of the institution to be due to him shall present his claims to the Secretary by presenting his deposit or pass books or other evidence of indebtednes sto the Secretary within the time and in the manner designated by the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of this act Any such depositor or shareholder who shall not have received or shall have lost his deposit or pass book or other evidence of indebtedness or who shall believe that the amount shown by such deposit or pass book or other evidence of indebtedness due to him is incorrect shall within the time designated by the Secretary present his claim to the Secretary by whatever method he shall designate

Any depositor or in the case of a building and loan association any shareholder who shall not present his claim within the designated time and in the manner provided by this section shall be bound by the amount appearing to be due to him upon the books or records of the institution or where the name of such depositor or shareholder does not appear at all upon the books or records of the institution or appears on such books or records but with no balance appearing to be due to him by the institution shall be permanently barred from sharing in any distribution of the assets of the institution However the court may upon petition and adequate cause shown permit any depositor or in the case of a building and loan association any shareholder to file his claim upon a later date but no claim shall in any event be allowed to be filed after the last day for the filing of exceptions to the first account of the Secretary

This section shall not however be construed to deprive any such depositor or shareholder of any right of action at law or in equity which he may have against an employe or former employe of the institution or upon the bond of such employe or former employe for any act committed by such employe which resulted in such depostor's or shareholder's not appearing upon the books of the institution or appearing upon them but being credited with an amount below that actually due

The Secretary shall prescribe the form for the proof of claim of all depositors or in the case of building and loan associations shareholders and for the affidavit to be included therein Whenever requested by any such depositor or shareholder to prepare such proof of claim or to take the affidavit thereto the Secretary shall do so without any charge to such depositor or shareholder

Section 1003 Proof of Claims of Creditors A Creditors other than depositors or in the case of a building and loan association other than shareholders shall not share in any distribution of the assets of the institution unless the creditor or someone for him shall within the time specified by the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of this act present to the Secretary a statement of his claim together with a copy of any book entries pertaining thereto any note or other instrument received as evidence thereof and a list of any collateral or agreement of pledge received in connection therewith

However the court may upon petition and adequate cause shown permit any creditor to file his claim upon a later date but no claim shall in any event be allowed to be filed after the last day for the filing of exceptions to the first account of the Secretary

The statement of a creditor's claim required by this section shall be verified by affidavit in substantially the following form

"I (name of claimant) do solemnly swear (or affirm) that the above is a true statement of my claim against (name of institution) that there are no credits or allowances against this claim except as therein set forth that there is no collateral security for this indebtedness or any part thereof held by me or by anyone else other than as above set forth and that I am not the owner or the obligee directly or indirectly of any contract of indemnity or insurance covering this claim except as set forth above"

If the creditor shall be a corporation such affidavit shall be made by the treasurer or assistant treasurer thereof and if a partnership by any member thereof In either such case the form of the affidavit shall be modified accordingly

B The provisions of this section shall not apply to the claims of parties interested in the custody possession or control of funds property or investments held by such institution in a fiduciary capacity However except as otherwise provided in this act the provisions of this section shall apply to disputes concerning the identity of such funds property or investments or to claims based upon deficiencies therein or the liability of the institution to surcharge thereon

Section 1004 Allowance of Claims For the purposes of the accounting provided for in this act the Secretary shall allow the claims of depositors or in the case of a building and loan association shareholders for the amounts shown to be due to them upon the books or other records of the institution or for such other amounts as they shall within the time and in the manner provided by this act prove to the satisfaction of the Secretary are due to them He shall likewise allow the claims of all other creditors when presented within the time and in the manner provided by this act if he shall be satisfied that the amounts claimed are rightfully due He shall reject all other claims of depositors other creditors and in the case of building and loan associations shareholders

Section 1005 Advance Payments of Dividends to Depositors After the expiration of the period fixed by the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of this act for the presentation of claims he may without leave of court and without filing an account make an advance payment of a dividend to all depositors the amounts of whose claims as they appear upon the books or other records of the institution are undisputed The dividend shall be calculated as if the claims of all other depositors as they appear upon the books or other records of the institution and the claims of all creditors or other corporations or persons who assert priority over or parity with depositors in the order of distribution of the assets were valid and uncontested

However the Secretary shall not make such an advance payment of a dividend to any depositor until he shall set aside an amount sufficient to pay in full the claims of all creditors or other corporations or persons asserting or entitled to priority over depositors in the order of distribution and to pay the proportionate dividend on the amounts claimed by the other depositors and by any creditors or other corporations or persons who are entitled to or who claim parity with depositors in the order of distribution provided for by law He shall likewise set aside before making such advance payment such amount as he shall deem necessary for the expenses of administration of the institution by him as receiver

Section 1006 Expenses of Administration Any reasonable expenditure made by the Secretary as receiver of an institution including any expense incurred in the management reorganization consolidation liquidation or distribution of the assets and affairs of the institution and any compensation paid to the deputy receiver or any other person employed to assist the Secretary in such management reorganization consolidation liquidation or distribution and to any deputy attorney general special deputy attorney general assistant deputy attorney general or other attorney who has been assigned by the Department of Justice to the Secretary to handle for him any legal business pertaining to the affairs or property of such institution shall be paid out of the assets of the institution provided it is included in any partial or final account filed by the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of this act and is approved by the court in which such account is filed

Where such expenses are incurred or such compensation is paid for the benefit of the estate of more than one institution in the possession of the Secretary as receiver an equitable portion of such expenses or compensation shall be paid out of the assets of each institution on whose behalf such expenditures were made

Section 1007 Partial or Final Account Objections A At any time after the expiration of the period fixed by the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of this act for the presentation of claims he shall file a partial or final account of his administration of the business and property of the institution duly verified by him under oath or affirmation in the office of the prothonotary

If the Secretary shall not file his first account within one year after he takes possession of an institution any depositor other creditor or shareholder of such institution may petition the court to order the Secretary to file an account The court may in its discretion grant or refuse the petition

The account shall present his administration of the estate including a statement of all receipts or expenditures by the Secretary as receiver a list of all claims which have been allowed and a separate list of claims which have been objected to or are disputed showing as to all depositors other creditors and in the case of a building and loan association shareholders their names and addresses the amounts due or claimed to be due to them and any priorities in the order of distribution granted to or claimed by them

B The Secretary shall forthwith give written or printed notice of such filing of an account to all corporations or persons whom he knows to be or to claim to be depositors other creditors and in the case of building and loan associations shareholders of the institution at the addresses which respectively appear for them upon the books of the institution or if none appear there at their last known respective addresses Such notice shall also state that unless an exception to the account or to any item therein is filed with the court within thirty days from the date of the filing thereof it will be confirmed absolutely

He shall likewise give notice to any corporation or person who pursuant to the provisions of this act has given the Secretary notice of his claim to the right of execution or attachment against any assets owned by or legally in the custody or possession of the Secretary as receiver of the institution

He shall also advertise such notice in a newspaper or newspapers as provided in this act stating the date upon which he has filed his partial or final account and the fact that all exceptions to the account must be filed within thirty days from the date of the filing of such account

The Secretary shall forthwith file with the court under oath or affirmation a statement that he has in the manner provided by this act sent both the notice of his determination to liquidate and the notice of his filing of an account to all corporations or persons entitled thereto whose names appear in the account at the addresses stated therein He shall also file the proofs of publication of the advertisements which he has inserted pursuant to the provisions of this act which respectively set forth his determination to liquidate and his filing of an account

C The prothonotary shall not be under any duty to recopy or otherwise record such account He shall make no charge except the regular fee for filing such or similar papers

Section 1008 Exceptions to Account A Any corporation or person who is or who claims to be a depositor other creditor or shareholder of an institution or who has given to the Secretary notice of his claim to the right of execution or attachment against any assets owned by or legally in the custody of the Secretary as receiver of an institution or who asserts any other type of claim against an institution may within thirty days after the filing of an account by the Secretary file in the court specific exceptions in writing under oath or affirmation to such account or to any item therein

Notice of any exception to an individual item in an account shall forthwith be personally served upon or sent by registered mail to the corporation or person whose claim is thus objected to or his counsel and also the Secretary or the deputy receiver managing the affairs of the particular institution or the counsel of either Affidavit of the serving or sending of such notice shall forthwith be filed with the court

B Whenever an exception is filed to any expenditure made by the Secretary as an expense of administration the Secretary shall keep an accurate record of the salaries and other expenses exclusive of counsel fees properly incurred by him in the contesting of such exception If the exception is overruled and the expenditure is sustained the court may in its discretion assess such expenses and salaries together with the regular costs provided by law upon the depositor other creditor or shareholder filing such exception

Section 1009 Adjudication of Rejected Claims and Exceptions to Account A If any claim has been rejected by the Secretary or any exception has been filed to the account or to any item thereof the court shall as soon as expedient after the expiration of the period for the filing of exceptions to the account fix a date for hearing in court arguments on all rejected claims and all exceptions to the account or to any item thereof

The Secretary shall give notice of such hearing to all corporations or persons whose claims have been rejected by the Secretary or objected to in the manner provided by this act He shall likewise give notice to all corporations or persons who have filed exceptions to the account or to any item thereof Such notice shall set forth in so far as possible the reasons for the rejection of the claim or the nature of the exception to the item of the account and shall state that all parties whose claims are rejected or objected to must appear in court upon the date fixed by the court to prove their claims or they will be bound by the ex parte decision of the court

B The court in which the account is filed shall itself hear arguments upon any rejected claim or upon any exception to an account or to any exception to an account or to any item thereof upon the date fixed by it for this purpose The court shall itself decide without delay all matters in controversy If any party does not appear in court on the day fixed the court shall conduct the hearing ex parte and shall render its decision upon the merits as they appear after such hearing

Section 1010 Confirmation of Account Distribution of Dividends A If the Secretary has approved all depositors' claims or in the case of building and loan associations all shareholders' claims as presented by them pursuant to the provisions of this act or if not presented as they appear upon the books or other records of the institution and if no exception has been filed to an account or to any item thereof within thirty days after the filing of such account by the Secretary the court shall confirm the account absolutely If any funds are available for distribution the Secretary shall then declare and pay out of such funds a partial or a final dividend according to the priorities established by law

If the Secretary has rejected any such deposit or claim or if any such exception has been filed the court shall confirm the account as to all other matters and claims The Secretary may then declare and pay out of the funds available for distribution if any a dividend according to the priorities established by law The dividend shall be calculated as if all deposits and other claims were valid and approved The Secretary before paying any such dividend shall set apart the proportion of such dividend which would be properly apportionable to any claim which has been rejected by the Secretary or to which an exception has been filed if the amount and the priority claimed were sustained by the court If any such claim shall be determined by the court to be valid the Secretary shall pay to the corporation or person entitled thereto the dividend which has been set apart in the manner provided by this section If any such claim shall be determined by the court to be invalid the dividend which has been set apart in the manner provided by this section shall be distributed in the order of the priorities established by law to those whose claims have been approved by the court

B The confirmation of any account after the adjudication of all claims therein which have been rejected by the Secretary or to which exceptions have been filed and of all other exceptions to such account shall be conclusive as to all matters therein Except as otherwise provided in this act no claim of any depositor or other creditor or in the case of a building and loan association any shareholder shall be valid if not listed and approved in the first account which has been filed

The confirmation of the final account and distribution thereunder shall discharge the Secretary the deputy receiver any other employe and the legal counsel as well as the surety for any of them from all further civil liability for any act done in his official capacity as receiver deputy receiver employe or legal counsel of the institution

Section 1303 Issuance or Rejection of Application by Department Certificate of Authorization A The Department shall immediately upon receipt of the application of a private bank conduct such investigation as it may deem necessary to ascertain the financial condition and responsibility of the private bank If it shall find that the provisions of this act have been complied with and that the financial condition and responsibility of the private bank is such as to warrant a continuance of the business it shall retain and file one of the duplicate originals of the application and shall issue a certificate of authorization empowering such private bank to continue in business The remaining duplicate original and the certificate of authorization shall be sent by the Department to the private bank which shall then have the certificate of authorization recorded in the office of the recorder of deeds of the county in which the place of business of the private bank is situated The certificate of authorization upon being recorded by the recorder of deeds shall be returned to the private bank which shall at all times be conspicuously posted in the place of business of the private bank in view of its customers Upon proper cause shown or upon any important change in the ownership of such private bank or in any other fact which is contained in the certificate of authorization the Department shall issue a new one

B If the Department shall reject the application it shall forthwith return it to the private bank stating in detail its reasons for doing so The private bank may within thirty days after the Department gives it notice of the rejection of its application appeal from such rejection to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County Such private bank shall file in said court a petition against the Department officially as defendant alleging therein in brief detail the facts set forth in the application and the rejection of the application by the Department A copy of such petition shall be served upon the Department which shall within ten days from the date of such service file an answer in which it shall allege by way of defense its grounds for rejecting the application Upon the filing of such answer the case before the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County shall be at issue and the court shall proceed to take testimony and to hear and determine the case From the decision of the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County an appeal may be taken by either party to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania as in other cases The Department shall act in accordance with the final determination of such appellate proceedings

C A private bank lawfully in existence and operation upon the effective date of this act shall if it files the application for a certificate of authorization within the time and in the manner prescribed by this act be permitted to remain in existence even if such application has been rejected until it has had full opportunity to appeal to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County and to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania and if it does so appeal until the final determination of such appellate proceedings

D If a private bank does not file an application for a certificate of authorization in accordance with the provisions of this act or if it does so and its application is rejected by the Department and if upon appeal such rejection is affirmed such private bank shall forthwith cease transacting any banking business and shall proceed at once to liquidate its assets following the order of distribution established by this act If such private bank does not begin or continue such liquidation with promptness and in a reasonable manner the Department shall take possession and the Secretary of Banking shall take over possession and liquidate as receiver in the manner provided by law

Section 1304 Bonds or Securities Furnished by Private Banks Depreciations or Substitutions A Except as otherwise specifically provided in this act every private bank shall furnish to the Department a bond to the Commonwealth executed in the case of a private bank owned by an individual by such individual owner and in the case of a private bank owned by a partnership or other unincorporated association by all the partners or members thereof and by a surety or sureties authorized to give surety bonds in this Commonwealth and approved by the Department Such bond shall be conditioned upon the faithful holding and repayment by the private bank in accordance with the provisions of this act of all moneys deposited with it or the payment of all claims by this act given a priority over or placed on a parity with deposits in the order of distribution in the event of liquidation of the business and property of such private bank and in the event of the bankruptcy of the private bank or of a formal determination by the Secretary of Banking after taking possession of such private bank as receiver to liquidate its business and property upon the payment of the full amount of the bond to the assignee receiver or trustee in bankruptcy of the private bank or the Secretary of Banking as receiver thereof as the case may be to be used to pay in full in the manner provided by law all depositors and all claimants by this act given priority over or placed on a parity with depositors in the order of distribution in the event of liquidation

B In lieu of the bond of a surety or sureties required by this section the Department may accept a collateral bond of the private bank secured by an actual deposit with the Department of money to the full amount of the bond or of securities to such amount which shall consist of interest-bearing obligations of the United States government of this Commonwealth or of any political subdivision of this Commonwealth or which shall consist of any other securities approved by the Department Such collateral bond shall be conditioned upon the same terms and in the same manner as is provided by this section in the case of a bond given by a surety or sureties and the securities deposited therewith shall constitute a trust fund for the depositors and for all claimants by law given a priority over or placed on a parity with depositors in the order of distribution in the event of liquidation of the business and property of such private bank

Any moneys or securities deposited with the Department by a private bank in accordance with the provisions of this article shall constitute a trust fund for the benefit of the depositors and of the claimants by this act given a priority over or placed on a parity with depositors in the order of distribution upon liquidation Other creditors shall not have any rights whatsoever against such moneys and securities However if the business and property of the private bank is being liquidated by the Secretary as receiver or by the private banker or private bankers owning such private bank such other creditors may be paid out of such moneys and securities after the claimants on whose behalf such moneys and securities constitute a trust fund have been paid in full

C Whenever it shall appear to the Department that the bond or the securities of a private bank given to the Department under the provisions of this section have depreciated in value so that their present value is below the amount required by this section to be filed with it by such private bank the Department may in the manner provided by law require such private bank to make good the deficiency

D All surety bonds and all collateral bonds together with the moneys or securities given as collateral therefor received by the Department from private banks shall be transmitted by the Department to the State Treasurer for safe-keeping subject to withdrawal in whole or in part at any time by the Department

E The amount of the bond or of the securities required by this section shall be equal to seventy-five per centum of the total deposits of the private bank plus seventy-five per centum of the total claims by law given priority over or placed on a parity with deposits in the order of distribution in the event of liquidation but the amount of such bond or securities shall not in any case be less than ten thousand dollars nor more than fifty thousand dollars A private bank which maintains more than one place of business in accordance with the provisions of this act shall furnish an additional bond or additional security to an amount of ten thousand dollars for each such additional place of business which it operates

F The Department may accept in lieu of the bonds or securities required by this act any bond or collateral bond secured by money or other securities which a private bank has filed with the Department of Banking or with any other State department in accordance with the provisions of an act approved the nineteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred eleven (Pamphlet Laws one thousand sixty) entitled "An act to provide for licensing and regulating private banking in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and providing penalties for violation thereof" its amendments and supplements provided that such bond or securities are to an amount equal to that required by this act or will in addition to any other bond or securities filed by the private bank equal such amount

G The Department may likewise grant to any private bank the authority to substitute for any bond or any collateral deposited with it another bond or other collateral provided that such other bond or collateral meets all the requirements of this act

H The Department may grant a reduction of the bond or collateral of any private bank deposited with it if after an examination it shall appear to the Department that as a result of withdrawals or of partial or total liquidation or otherwise a decrease in the deposits of such private bank or in the claims by law given priority over or placed on a parity with such deposits in the order of distribution in the event of liquidation warrants such reduction but a bond or collateral shall not be reduced to less than ten thousand dollars in any case until it shall appear to the Department after careful examination that all depositors and all claimants who by law are given priority over or are placed on a parity with depositors in the order of distribution upon liquidation have been paid in full and that such private bank has ceased to engage in a banking business

Section 1305 Exemption from Publishing of Reports Additional Bond or Securities A private bank may be exempted from the requirement of law that it publish in a newspaper or newspapers in the manner provided by law abstract summaries of two of its reports designated for that purpose by the Department if it shall furnish to the Department in addition to any other bond required by this act a surety bond or a collateral bond secured by money or securities Such surety bond or collateral bond secured by money or securities to the amount of twenty-five thousand dollars which shall meet all the requirements established by this act for the original bond to be furnished by private banks

Section 1306 Interest upon Securities Deposited with Department The private bank shall be entitled to all moneys received by the State Treasurer as interest or dividends upon any securities deposited by such private bank with the Department and by it transmitted to the State Treasurer for safe-keeping in accordance with the provisions of this article

Section 1307 Exemption from Filing of Bond or Securities A A private bank which shall appear upon careful examination by the Department to have an unimpaired net worth of at least one hundred thousand dollars shall so long as such net worth of one hundred thousand dollars shall remain unimpaired be exempted from the duty of furnishing to the Department the surety bond or the collateral bond secured by money or securities required by this article but this shall not be construed to exempt such private bank from furnishing the surety bond or the collateral bond secured by money or securities to the amount of twenty-five thousand dollars required by this article to be furnished by any private bank desiring to be exempted from the requirement of law that it publish during each year in a newspaper or newspapers in the manner provided by law abstract summaries of any two of its reports designated for this purpose by the Department

B Whenever it shall appear to the Department that such net worth of such private banker has become impaired below one hundred thousand dollars and has remained so impaired for a period of fourteen days or such longer period as the Department shall allow but not exceeding ninety days it shall forthwith require such private bank to furnish the surety bond or the collateral bond secured by moneys or securities required by this article

Section 1308 Accumulation of Reserve against Deposits The certificate of authorization provided for in this article shall not be granted to any private bank until it shall have a reserve fund for deposits and other demand liabilities to an amount equal to fifty per centum of that required by this act for all institutions Within sixty days after the date of the issuance of the certificate of authorization such private bank shall have added at least twenty-five per centum to such reserve fund and by the first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-four it shall have the full reserve fund required by this act Thereafter the entire amount of such reserve fund shall be at all times maintained and kept on hand in the manner provided by this act for all institutions

Section 1309 Segregation of Assets Title to be Carried in Name of Private Bank Loans to Owners or Members of Private Bank A All real or personal property and all evidence of title thereto which constitute the assets of a private bank shall be segregated and kept apart from the property and assets belonging to the owner or owners thereof in their individual capacities All such real or personal property owned by a private bank shall be carried in the name of such private bank If such name is the same as that of the individual owner or in the case of a partnership or other unincorporated association any of the owners thereof all property of the private bank shall be carried in such name with the addition of the descriptive words "private bank" In such case all deeds mortgages assignments contracts and agreements received taken or entered into by any such private bank shall be received taken or entered into in the name of such private bank with the addition of the descriptive words "private bank"

B A private banker shall not appropriate to his own use any part of the deposits or moneys received for transmission by a private bank or in the case of a private bank which maintains a net worth of an established amount in lieu of furnishing a bond or securities to the Department any moneys or assets which would reduce such net worth below the minimum required by this act Loans which have prior to the effective date of this act been granted by a private bank directly or indirectly to the owner or owners thereof shall not be included as assets upon the books or other records or in any statement of the financial condition of such private bank

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, May 2, 1933.

Whereas, The continuance of the economic depression has seriously affected the revenues of the State government and necessitates the greatest economy and reduction in State governmental costs during the next fiscal biennium in order that the budget may be balanced and the unemployed cared for: and

Whereas, The salaries paid to public officers and employes constitute an appreciable part of the cost of government; and

Whereas, The income of public officers and employes has not been affected by the depression to the same degree as that of persons employed in commerce and industry; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That it is the sense of the General Assembly that the salary and compensation of all public officers and employes of the executive and legislative departments of the State government should be reduced during the next fiscal biennium beginning June 1, 1933, and that those officers and agencies charged with the fixing of salaries and compensation of public employes should reduce all salaries and compensation in accordance with this resolution.

Resolved, That all public officers of the executive and legislative departments of the State government whose salaries under the Constitution cannot be reduced during the terms for which they were respectively elected or appointed, be requested and urged to agree voluntarily to accept reductions in their salaries and to authorize requisitions for salaries during the next fiscal biennium to be drawn in reduced amounts in accordance with the terms of this resolution.

Resolved, That it is the sense of the General Assembly that such reductions in salaries and compensation for the fiscal biennium beginning June 1, 1933, should be in accordance with the following standards:

(a) Salaries and compensation amounting to $1000 and less should not be reduced;

(b) Salaries and compensation amounting to more than $1000 per annum or for a stated period, should be reduced by an amount equal to 10% of the difference between the present salary or compensation and the sum of $1000.

(c) That no per diem compensation amounting to $2.40 per day or less shall be reduced, and per diem compensation amounting to more than $2.40 per day should be reduced by an amount equal to 10% of the difference between the present per diem compensation and $2.40.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.
